

Revolt Stirs Reich; Hitler Orders Purge Of Generals

(By The Associated Press)
London, July 21—Adolf Hitler today conferred extraordinary powers of life and death upon Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler and ordered a purge of rebellious army elements who, he said, had tried to assassinate him and pave the way for Germany's surrender.

Himmler went quickly to work in his blood-letting. Berlin announced execution of a group of the conspirators, including an Army colonel who placed a bomb which burned and bruised Hitler, but there were many indications that rebellion still was spreading.

"There seems no doubt that an army revolt is still on and that a state of civil war exists in the Reich," declared "The Continental Observer" of the British news agency Reuters.

Hitler is frightened. Berlin remained silent, meanwhile, as to the fate of high German Army officers dismissed from top commands in recent weeks, and precautions were set up to prevent contact with the Allies or flight by plane.

With broken communications masking what perhaps was Civil war and mutiny within the Reich, the Berlin radio announced that Col. Gen. Ludwig Beck, former chief of the German general staff was "no longer among living persons." He presumably was shot in the fiery vengeance Hitler was venting upon his own people.

2 Divisions Revolt
At the same time a traveler reaching Sweden said two German divisions revolted in East Prussia on Wednesday, apparently touching off the movement which culminated in the attack on Hitler, declared by Berlin to have occurred Thursday.

Besides Beck, Berlin announced execution of a whole group of conspirators linked with the plot to overthrow the Fuehrer and prepare the path for peace in the defeat-riddled and bomb-torn Reich.

Among them was the colonel who was alleged to have planted a bomb which exploded only a little over six feet from Hitler while he was surrounded by his highest personal military aides.

Stockholm newspapers were cut off from their Berlin correspondents at 8:40 p. m. last night, and communications still were blocked today. Other sources of neutral information from inside Germany likewise were blocked.

Speaking in angry and strident tones in an unheated early morning broadcast only a few hours after Berlin announced he had escaped death, Hitler declared:

"At an hour in which the German Army is waging a very hard struggle, there has appeared in Germany a very small group similar to that in Italy (apparently a reference to the Italian surrender last September 8) which believed that it could thrust a dagger into our back as it did in 1918. But this time they have made a mistake."

That a revolt of widespread proportions may have developed among high German officers was indicated by Hitler's words, although he, as well as Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering and Admiral Karl Doenitz, who followed him on the air, all tried to emphasize that the dissatisfaction was concentrated in a small group.

Goering Raps Junkers
Goering's remarks were directed to the German air force. Doenitz to the navy. No spokesman appeared for the Army, and this was regarded as possibly significant.

Goering, who is topped only by Hitler in the Nazi hierarchy, pointed the finger of retribution directly at the stiff-backed Junkers faction of the German Army.

Some London quarters expressed belief the entire affair might be a frame-up to give the Nazis an excuse to purge some German general staff members considered unreliable.

There is considerable suspicion over the fact Berlin propagandists for six hours have been telling the German people and the world that the attempted assassination was "made by the enemy" before Hitler came out with a flat accusation of his own army officers.

Goering declared the "mean attempt at murder" was organized by "a miserable clique of former generals who had to be chased from their posts for a leadership that was as cowardly as it was incompetent."

Top Leaders Ousted
Only a few days ago Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt, long an outspoken opponent of Hitler, was removed as commander-in-chief of the west. Two days ago another old-line Junkers general, Col. Gen. Alexander von Falkenhausen, was eased from his command in Belgium and northern France.

Others who have been dismissed from major commands in recent months include Field Marshal Gen. Walther von Brauchitsch, Field Marshal Gen. Fedor von Bock, Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Ritter von Leeb, Field Marshal Fritz Erich von Mannstein, and Field Marshal Gen. Ewald von Kleist.

As long ago as last November reports from inside Germany indicated that the German high command was planning a coup.

YANKS INVADE GUAM

YOUNG SEAMAN IS DROWNED IN POOL AT MOUNT

Marvin Lee Keeney, 18-year-old apprentice seaman in training with the V-12A unit at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, was drowned accidentally Wednesday in the new outdoor swimming pool on the campus.

The youth's home was in New Midway, Md., less than 15 miles from the campus where he had entered training July 1.

While the Navy withheld official details of the drowning, unofficial reports from the campus stated that Keeney had been participating in swimming drills in the pool Wednesday morning along with more than 30 other Navy students. The body was found at 5:30 p. m. in 14 feet of water.

Navy To Investigate

Dr. W. R. Cadle, Emmitsburg, acting medical examiner, returned a verdict of accidental drowning after an investigation by school officials and Deputy Sheriff R. Paul Buehrman. The investigators said Keeney was a novice at swimming and apparently had gone down without an outcry or struggle and was not missed by other members of the class.

This morning Officer Bruce A. Bruchey of the Maryland state police at Emmitsburg conducted an investigation and said he had been told at the college that there also will be a formal Navy investigation of the drowning. Chief Petty Officer Wilson at the college recovered the body, the state trooper reported, several hours after the youth was first missed.

Services Saturday
Seaman Keeney began an eight-month course at the college this month which was to have been preliminary to his advance to other phases of aviation training. He enlisted March 17 at Washington.

He was a graduate of the Walkeville (Md.) high school in the class of 1943 and was a member of the Grace Lutheran church at Rocky Hill. His mother, Mrs. Catherine Keeney Beard, his step-father and a half-brother, all of New Midway, survive.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home with further services in Grace church at Rocky Hill. Eight men from the V-12 unit are to serve as pallbearers.

ROTHENHOEFFER PLEADS GUILTY

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore Thursday afternoon on a charge of killing a human being in mistake for a wild animal, Charles H. Rothenhoeffer, 75, Aspers, voluntarily signed a plea of guilty and a short time later was released under $1,500 bail for his appearance in August court.

The elderly man is charged in the fatal shooting of William George McCauslin, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. McCauslin, Aspers, on Wednesday at the Rothenhoeffer home.

Rothenhoeffer told Private Harold K. Trout of the state police, who filed the charge after conferring with the district attorney, that he mistook the McCauslin boy's blue shirt for the slate-blue plumage of a fish crane when he glimpsed the spot of color through bushes along his garden fence. He fired one charge from his 12-gauge shotgun and struck the boy in the neck and head inflicting wounds that caused the child's death an hour later in the Warner hospital.

This afternoon Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, will conduct a formal inquest into the tragedy at the court house at 3:30 o'clock.

Vesper Service At Fairfield Sunday

The third of the series of vesper services sponsored by the Fairfield Union Christian Endeavor society will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock on the lawn at the rear of Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield.

$3,565,000 In War Bond Sales

Adams county has oversubscribed its Fifth War Bond quota of $2,797,000 by $768,000, sales through July 19 revealed today.

Total sales of all types of bonds at the close of business Wednesday, compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank, reached the astounding figure of $3,565,000 Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county War Finance committee, announced.

Sale of bonds to individuals amounted to $1,010,800 while the sale of "E" bonds totaled $369,490. The latter figure indicates a shortage of $299,600 in the quota for this type of bond. The county quota is $650,000.

C. Willard Carey, Harrisburg, deputy manager for this district in the bond drives, came to Gettysburg this afternoon to meet with Chairman Thomas and others of the finance committee.

Mr. Carey planned to discuss with county volunteer leaders the sale of "E" bonds in industrial plants and elsewhere during the remainder of the campaign which closes July 31.

Marines And Infantry Make Initial Landings; Air And Ship Support

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY

U. S.-Pacific Fleet—Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, July 21 (AP)—United States Marines and Infantry are pouring ashore on Guam, first American territory seized by the Japanese, and fighting their way inland under cover of a pulverizing aerial and warship bombardment. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The landings, a quick follow-up to the great victory on Saipan, started yesterday morning, and "are continuing against moderate ground opposition," Nimitz' communique said.

Enemy Defenses Shelled At Close Range

"Enemy defenses are being heavily bombed and shelled at close range."

Guam is the southernmost and largest of the Marianas group of islands. In American hands it will greatly strengthen Saipan's position as a base from which Japan can be mortally assaulted. Guam is 130 miles southwest of Saipan and both islands are within easy superfortress range of Tokyo and the whole of Japan.

The Philippines, lying some 1,500 miles west of Guam and Saipan, likewise are vulnerable to the mighty forces Nimitz is hurling across the Pacific.

The Guam landing came after 17 days of the most terrific warship-plane blasting given any invaded Pacific island, with battleships adding their heavy shells to the torrent of explosives poured from cruisers, destroyers and planes.

Landings Completed On Schedule

Guam, seized December 10, 1941—Two days after Pearl Harbor (December 8, East Longitude time)—presumably will offer the same bitter, bloody resistance the Marines and Army troops encountered on Saipan in 25 days of fighting. It was believed the Guam garrison was as strong as Saipan's, which consisted of more than 20,000 troops on D-Day, June 14. The Americans had to kill 95 per cent of that force before gaining victory.

No indication was given as to the landing places. A fleet spokesman merely said: "All landings were effected in all areas as programmed." This suggested the landings were not as difficult as at Saipan, where Marines died on the reef-girt beaches.

Reds Continue To Smash Nazi Defenses; British Gain 8 Miles In Normandy

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 21 (AP)—British and Canadian infantry, taking over from armored forces the burden of the attack in the Caen offensive, expanded the deepest shaft of the advance eight miles from their original jump off spots today and widened the shallowest points to five miles.

The deepest penetration of the German defenses took place directly east of Caen, where British Tommies by-passing Troarn to the north drove to within 1,000 yards of the village of Bures on the Dives river slightly more than eight miles from Caen. The enemy has flooded the river to block the coastal route to the great port of Le Harve.

Nazis Hold Reserves
It was apparent that Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's advance, while making gains, had failed thus far at least in the main objective of bringing the main German army to battle.

The supreme command stressed that no large scale encircling move had been accomplished against the German armor and that, in fact, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had used only a few tanks in battle holding his reserves well back from the front line. Only a comparative handful of prisoners for the size of Montgomery's effort has been taken. Field dispatches indicated the total was in the neighborhood of 2,000.

In three days the British Second Army has advanced an average of less than two miles a day, which is not the pace for a big armored offensive of the style of the Russian front, Italy or the western desert.

Local Advances
Only local advances were reported today in the American sector along the western portion of the Normandy line. Close air support was curtailed by the weather. The Allied air forces, thanks mainly to the terrific hammering of Germany by American strategic air forces, flew 6,000 sorties yesterday.

German anti-tank screens blocked the British tank advance and infantry had to be called up to smash a way through them. The Tommies captured two of the Germans' strong points in villages and fought their way to the outskirts of three more.

German anti-tank screens blocked the British tank advance and infantry had to be called up to smash a way through them. The Tommies captured two of the Germans' strong points in villages and fought their way to the outskirts of three more.

But in the interior the Americans will encounter the same hills, caves and crevices which gave Saipan's defenders a tremendous edge over the attackers.

Guam, 32 miles long and four to ten miles wide, was overrun by 8,000 Japanese troops who stormed ashore against 200 Marines in the early days of the war. All the other Marianas islands to the north were Japanese, who thus had all the advantages against the isolated American garrison.

The island has one of the Pacific's finest harbors, Apra, and formerly served as a way-station on the trans-Pacific air route to the east. It supports a native population of nearly 22,000. Its area is about 225 square miles, the southern half containing fertile valleys broken by low hills, the northern half mainly a 500-foot plateau.

The steady, daily bombardment which established a record tonnage, apparently knocked out many Japanese shore defenses and drove the enemy from the beaches.

Size of Force Unknown
The number of ground forces landed was not reported, but it is reasonable to assume the operations there were comparable to Saipan, where the Second and Fourth Marine Divisions and the 7th Army Division required 25 days to seize the island.

Rear Adm. Richard L. Conolly, who commanded the amphibious force at Okinawa and Salerno, and directed the conquest of Roi and Namur in the northern Kwajalein atoll, is directing the amphibious operations against Guam.

He is rated one of the ablest and shrewdest Naval officers in the Pacific. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for his Marshall Islands operations.

Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, U. S. Marine Corps, as commander of the Third Amphibious Corps, is commanding all expeditionary troops. Geiger landed Marines on Guadalcanal and Bougainville.

Fifth fleet operations remained under command of Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, who has had the same command in the Gilberts, Marshalls and at Saipan. Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carrier task force is continuing the great aerial smashes that began in the Marshalls and continued through the Truk and earlier Marianas strikes, and throughout the Marianas invasion operations.

In the southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today his British New Guinea forces continued to beat back attempts of a Japanese Army of 45,000 to break out of a trap west of Wewak.

YOUNG SEAMAN IS DROWNED IN POOL AT MOUNT

Marvin Lee Keeney, 18-year-old apprentice seaman in training with the V-12A unit at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, was drowned accidentally Wednesday in the new outdoor swimming pool on the campus.

The youth's home was in New Midway, Md., less than 15 miles from the campus where he had entered training July 1.

While the Navy withheld official details of the drowning, unofficial reports from the campus stated that Keeney had been participating in swimming drills in the pool Wednesday morning along with more than 30 other Navy students. The body was found at 5:30 p. m. in 14 feet of water.

ROTHENHOEFFER PLEADS GUILTY Arraigned before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore Thursday afternoon on a charge of killing a human being in mistake for a wild animal, Charles H. Rothenhoeffer, 75, Aspers, voluntarily signed a plea of guilty and a short time later was released under $1,500 bail for his appearance in August court.

The elderly man is charged in the fatal shooting of William George McCauslin, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. McCauslin, Aspers, on Wednesday at the Rothenhoeffer home.

Rothenhoeffer told Private Harold K. Trout of the state police, who filed the charge after conferring with the district attorney, that he mistook the McCauslin boy's blue shirt for the slate-blue plumage of a fish crane when he glimpsed the spot of color through bushes along his garden fence. He fired one charge from his 12-gauge shotgun and struck the boy in the neck and head inflicting wounds that caused the child's death an hour later in the Warner hospital.

$3,565,000 In War Bond Sales

Adams county has oversubscribed its Fifth War Bond quota of $2,797,000 by $768,000, sales through July 19 revealed today.

Total sales of all types of bonds at the close of business Wednesday, compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank, reached the astounding figure of $3,565,000 Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county War Finance committee, announced.

Sale of bonds to individuals mounted to $1,010,800 while the sale of "E" bonds totaled $369,400. The latter figure indicates a shortage of $280,600 in the quota for this type of bond. The county quota is $650,000.

C. Willard Carey, Harrisburg, deputy manager for this district in the bond drives, came to Gettysburg this afternoon to meet with Chairman Thomas and others of the finance committee.

Mr. Carey planned to discuss with county volunteer leaders the sale of "E" bonds in industrial plants and elsewhere during the remainder of the campaign which closes July 31.

Marines And Infantry Make Initial Landings; Air And Ship Support

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, July 21 (AP)—United States Marines and Infantry are pouring ashore on Guam, first American territory seized by the Japanese, and fighting their way inland under cover of a pulverizing aerial and warship bombardment, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The landings, a quick follow-up to the great victory on Saipan, started yesterday morning, and "are continuing against moderate ground opposition," Nimitz' communique said.

Enemy Defenses Shelled At Close Range "Enemy defenses are being heavily bombed and shelled at close range."

Guam is the southernmost and largest of the Marianas group of islands. In American hands it will greatly strengthen Saipan's position as a base from which Japan can be mortally assaulted. Guam is 130 miles southwest of Saipan and both islands are within easy superfortress range of Tokyo and the whole of Japan.

The Philippines, lying some 1,500 miles west of Guam and Saipan, likewise are vulnerable to the mighty forces Nimitz is hurling across the Pacific.

The Guam landing came after 17 days of the most terrific warship-plane blasting given any invaded Pacific island, with battleships adding their heavy shells to the torrent of explosives poured from cruisers, destroyers and planes.

Landings Completed On Schedule Guam, seized December 10, 1941—Two days after Pearl Harbor (December 8, East Longitude time)—presumably will offer the same bitter, bloody resistance the Marines and Army troops encountered on Saipan in 25 days of fighting. It was believed the Guam garrison was as strong as Saipan's, which consisted of more than 20,000 troops on D-Day, June 14. The Americans had to kill 95 per cent of that force before gaining victory.

No indication was given as to the landing places. A fleet spokesman merely said: "All landings were effected in all areas as programmed." This suggested the landings were not as difficult as at Saipan, where Marines died on the reef-girt beaches.

But in the interior the Americans will encounter the same hills, caves and crevices which gave Saipan's defenders a tremendous edge over the attackers.

Guam, 32 miles long and four to ten miles wide, was overrun by 8,000 Japanese troops who stormed ashore against 200 Marines in the early days of the war. All the other Marianas islands to the north were Japanese, who thus had all the advantages against the isolated American garrison.

The island has one of the Pacific's finest harbors, Apra, and formerly served as a way-station on the trans-Pacific airroute to the east. It supports a native population of nearly 22,000. Its area is about 225 square miles, the southern half containing fertile valleys broken by low hills, the northern half mainly a 500-foot plateau.

The steady, daily bombardment which established a record tonnage, apparently knocked out many Japanese shore defenses and drove the enemy from the beaches.

Size of Force Unknown The number of ground forces landed was not reported, but it is reasonable to assume the operations there were comparable to Saipan, where the Second and Fourth Marine Divisions and the 7th Army Division required 25 days to seize the island.

Rear Adm. Richard L. Conolly, who commanded the amphibious force at Cebu and Salerno, and directed the conquest of Roi and Namur in the northern Kwajalein atoll, is directing the amphibious operations against Guam.

He is rated one of the ablest and shrewdest Naval officers in the Pacific. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for his Marshall islands operations.

Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, U. S. Marine Corps, as commander of the Third Amphibious Corps, is commanding all expeditionary troops. Geiger landed Marines on Guadalcanal and Bougainville.

Fifth fleet operations remained under command of Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, who has had the same command in the Gilberts, Marshalls and at Saipan. Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carrier task force is continuing the great aerial smashes that began in the Marshalls and continued through the Truk and earlier Marianas strikes, and throughout the Marianas invasion operations.

In the southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today his British New Guinea forces continued to beat back attempts of a Japanese Army of 45,000 to break out of a trap west of Wewak.

Reds Continue To Smash Nazi Defenses; British Gain 8 Miles In Normandy Moscow, July 21 (AP)—The Red Army seized a deadly stranglehold on the Germans' Baltic front deep inside Lithuania today, hurled a massive blow toward Poland's martyred capital of Warsaw and sealed the fate of the Nazi stronghold of Lwow.

Pouring across the trans-Lithuanian railway, Soviet forces captured the junction of Skopishki, 50 miles west of Daugavpils (Dvinsk), 85 miles southeast of the Latvian port of Riga and 165 miles east of Memele.

The deepest penetration of the German defenses took place directly east of Caen, where British Tommies by-passing Troarn to the north drove to within 1,000 yards of the village of Bures on the Dives river slightly more than eight miles from Caen. The enemy has flooded the river to block the coastal route to the great port of Le Havre.

Nazis Hold Reserves It was apparent that Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's advance, while making gains, had failed thus far at least in the main objective of bringing the main German army to battle.

The supreme command stressed that no large scale encircling move had been accomplished against the German armor and that, in fact, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had used only a few tanks in battle holding his reserves well back from the front line. Only a comparative handful of prisoners for the size of Montgomery's effort has been taken. Field dispatches indicated the total was in the neighborhood of 2,000.

In three days the British Second Army has advanced an average of less than two miles a day, which is not the pace for a big armored offensive of the style of the Russian front, Italy or the western desert.

Local Advances Only local advances were reported today in the American sector along the western portion of the Normandy line. Close air support was curtailed by the weather. The Allied air forces, thanks mainly to the terrific hammering of Germany by American strategic air forces flew 6,000 sorties yesterday.

German anti-tank screens blocked the British tank advance and infantry had to be called up to smash a way through them. The Tommies captured two of the Germans' strong points in villages and fought their way to the outskirts of three more.

Good Evening The Germans are realizing now that the supermen do not live in the Reich.

HITLER'S RULE OF RUIN CAUSE OF NEW REVOLT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

There can be no doubt that the attempt on Hitler's life has signalled a rebellion of dangerous size against his regime, despite his claim that only a "small clique" of officers are involved.

The gravity of the situation is made startlingly clear by the dictator's move in conferring the powers of life and death on Gestapo Chief Himmler and setting that arch-murderer to work in another bloody purge. It is emphasized by the penicillin which Marshal Goering and others of the Fuehrer's captains have made to the army and navy to remain loyal.

Hitler says that the coup was aimed at paving the way for the surrender of Germany. That likely is true, but it still leaves much mystery surrounding the attempted assassination of the man who, evil as he is, has exercised one of the most powerful leaderships in history.

Fanatical Followers
Hitler's leadership, especially over the younger generation of fanatical Nazis whom he himself created, has remained strong. Many literally have regarded him as a Messiah.

Why then should any of his own people want to assassinate him? Well, there are a dozen good reasons. He has had his awful blood purges, and massacres and he has used his power of life and death ruthlessly to enforce his orders. However, we seem to be dealing with a revolt among the armed forces, and we have a logical explanation in the remarkable declaration a couple of days ago by Nazi General Edmund Heinesmeier to his Russian captors.

The general asserted in bitter terms that Hitler is responsible for the German disaster in the eastern theater because of insistence, against the judgment of the high command, on clinging to positions to the death regardless of mountainous casualties. So it seems that the mad-dog of Berchtesgaden finally bit himself.

The genesis of Hitler's obsession is this: When the Red armies finally broke the Nazi invasion deep within Russian territory he adopted the apparently sound strategy of fighting a delaying action—snapping his abundant captured territory for time which might produce a turn of fortune in his favor.

Leadership Falls
At the outset this worked. But Soviet striking power multiplied amazingly, and German strength decreased. Until by the beginning of this year Hitler no longer had the reserves or resources with which to pursue the scheme of delay. However, he declined to scrap it, despite the advice of his senior generals. For months he's been making colossal sacrifices of life in a wild effort to hold positions which he should have abandoned to shorten his front.

As a result we now find the dictator desperately fighting back to wall to defend the very inner shields of the Fatherland itself. Thus there's nothing strange then in the idea that infuriated officers have tried to remove the man who is carrying the Fatherland down to ruin.

HEAR RED CROSS SERVICES TO PW CAMPS ABROAD

Red Cross staff members of the Adams county chapter were among the throng that gathered in Hanover Thursday evening to hear Mrs. Reeves Hoover, member of the national Red Cross staff at Washington, give advice and information of interest to families with relatives listed as missing in war theatres or held in Axis prison camps.

Mrs. Hoover gave instructions on mailing messages and supplies to the prisoners and advised families that unwise investigation about missing soldiers may cause hardship on the soldier himself or European underground workers who may be aiding him.

The speaker advised that in cases where an air crew member has been reported missing while other members of the same crew are listed as prisoners of war, families should not press an inquiry about the man's whereabouts because of the possibility that he may have escaped capture. Investigations might bring serious results for him and for the underground organization that may be aiding him, she pointed out.

She showed pictures of a prison camp, life and said that cigarettes should be included in prisoner packages because they form a good medium for barter. She said five pounds of books may be sent to a prisoner in a month if shipped by a publisher. SOUTHERNERS BOLTING PARTY

Chicago, July 21 (AP)—Texas Democrats who walked out of the national convention in a huff over repeated rebuffs called a meeting of dissident southerners today to discuss next steps in their revolt against the New Deal.

Third party talk circulated and it appeared the southerners' meeting might take on the nature of a "rump" session.

The southerners were asked to meet one hour after today's convention session ends.

E. B. Germany of Dallas, a leader of the faction fighting the administration, said the meeting would be held in the rooms of former Governor Mike Connor of Mississippi. A committee named by the bolting Texans issued a formal statement charging that "the bureaucrats, the CIO Political Action Committee, and a liberal sprinkling of Communists joined forces to tell Texas Democrats just where they stand in national politics."

Scores Opposition
The action of the Texas convention was thwarted by the Hillman, Tobin, and Browder followers who carried the ball behind perfect interference of an army of bureaucrats," the statement continued.

"The action of the credentials committee of the convention was a deliberate slap at duly constituted authority. The fact that the Texas convention was held in conformity with law; that it was regular in every respect; that the delegates were duly and legally elected and certified had no persuasive power whatsoever."

"The Democrats of Texas will meet the challenge of these undemocratic elements and will make sure that they shall not gain control of the Democratic party of Texas."

THIRD PARTY TALK BUZZES

Chicago, July 21 (AP)—Third-party talk buzzed among southern delegates to the Democratic national convention today as they squared off for a final fling of opposition to anything favoring the New Deal.

Neutral by defeats in two of their major fights yesterday and split by dissension in their own ranks, Dixie delegates directed their fire at Vice President Henry A. Wallace and headed for the convention hall determined to block his renomination.

Their opinion of Wallace, never too high, fell to the zero point yesterday when the Vice President, seconding the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt, declared "the poll tax must go."

That rubbed the wounds inflicted on the southerners earlier in the day when the convention rules committee turned down their demand for restoration of the two-thirds nominating rule and the platform drafters rejected their plea for a "white supremacy" plank.

An informal check-up showed that Wallace might receive less than one-third of Dixie's delegate votes for another term, with Senator Harry Truman of Missouri and a field of "favorite sons" getting the others.

Almost 80 southern votes were cast against President Roosevelt yesterday. They went to Virginia Senator Harry F. Byrd.

HITLER'S RULE OF RUIN CAUSE OF NEW REVOLT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

There can be no doubt that the attempt on Hitler's life has signalled a rebellion of dangerous size against his regime, despite his claim that only a "small clique" of officers are involved.

The gravity of the situation is made startlingly clear by the dictator's move in conferring the powers of life and death on Gestapo Chief Himmler and setting that arch-murderer to work in another bloody purge. It is emphasized by the panicky appeals which Marshal Goering and others of the Fuehrer's captains have made to the army and navy to remain loyal.

Hitler says that the coup was aimed at paying the way for the surrender of Germany. That likely is true, but it still leaves much mystery surrounding the attempted assassination of the man who, evil as he is, has exercised one of the most powerful leaderships in history.

Fanatical Followers

Hitler's leadership, especially over the younger generation of fanatical Nazis whom he himself created, has remained strong. Many literally have regarded him as a Messiah.

Why then should any of his own people want to assassinate him? Well, there are a dozen good reasons. He has had his awful blood purges, and massacres and he has used his power of life and death ruthlessly to enforce his orders. However, we seem to be dealing with a revolt among the armed forces, and we have a logical explanation in the remarkable declaration a couple of days ago by Nazi General Edmund Hofmeister to his Russian captives.

The general asserted in bitter terms that Hitler is responsible for the German disaster in the eastern theater because of insistence, against the judgment of the high command, on clinging to positions to the death regardless of mountainous casualties. So it seems that the mad-dog of Berchtesgaden finally bit himself.

The genesis of Hitler's obsession is this: When the Red armies finally blocked the Nazi invasion deep within Russian territory he adopted the apparently sound strategy of fighting a delaying action—swapping his abundant captured territory for time which might produce a turn of fortune in his favor.

Leadership Fails

At the outset this worked. But Soviet striking power multiplied amazingly, and German strength decreased, until by the beginning of this year Hitler no longer had the reserves or resources with which to pursue the scheme of delay. However, he declined to scrap it, despite the advice of his senior generals. For months he's been making colossal sacrifices of life in a wild effort to hold positions which he should have abandoned to shorten his front.

As a result we now find the dictator desperately fighting with back to wall to defend the very inner shields of the fatherland itself. Thus there's nothing strange then in the idea that infuriated officers have tried to remove the man who is carrying the fatherland down to ruin.

HEAR RED CROSS SERVICES TO PW CAMPS ABROAD

Red Cross staff members of the Adams county chapter were among the throng that gathered in Hanover Thursday evening to hear Mrs. Reeves Hoover, member of the national Red Cross staff at Washington, give advice and information of interest to families with relatives listed as missing in war theatres or held in Axis prison camps.

Mrs. Hoover gave instructions on mailing messages and supplies to the prisoners and advised families that unwise investigation about missing soldiers may cause hardship on the soldier himself or European underground workers who may be aiding him.

The speaker advised that in cases where an air crew member has been reported missing while other members of the same crew are listed as prisoners of war, families should not press an inquiry about the man's whereabouts because of the possibility that he may have escaped capture. Investigations might bring serious results for him and for the underground organization that may be aiding him, she pointed out.

Displays R. C. Packages

She showed pictures of prison camp life and said that cigarettes should be included in prisoner packages because they form a good medium for barter. She said five pounds of books may be sent to a prisoner in a month if shipped by a publisher. Books may not be sent by individuals. Mrs. Hoover spoke of the many prisoner of war problems handled by the Red Cross and displayed food packages sent to prison camps by the Red Cross.

The group from Adams county that heard the address included: Mrs. E. S. Lewars, chapter chairman; Mrs. William Tyson, Mrs. Francis C. Mason, Dr. Earl Bowen, prisoner of war consultant for the county, and Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Albert Baehman, Mrs. Effa Chapman and Miss Margaret McMillan, of Gettysburg, and Mrs. E. A. Meyer, Biglerville.

SOUTHERNERS BOLTING PARTY

Chicago, July 21 (AP)—Texas Democrats who walked out of the national convention in a huff over repeated rebuffs called a meeting of dissident southerners today to discuss next steps in their revolt against the New Deal.

Third party talk circulated and it appeared the southerners' meeting might take on the nature of a "rump" session.

The southerners were asked to meet one hour after today's convention session ends.

E. B. Germany of Dallas, a leader of the faction fighting the administration, said the meeting would be held in the rooms of former Governor Mike Conner of Mississippi.

A committee named by the bolting Texans issued a formal statement charging that "the bureaucrats, the CIO Political Action committee, and a liberal sprinkling of Communists joined forces to tell Texas Democrats just where they stand in national politics."

Scores Opposition

"The action of the Texas convention was thwarted by the Hillman, Tobin, and Browder followers who carried the ball behind perfect interference of an army of bureaucrats," the statement continued.

"The action of the credentials committee of the convention was a deliberate slap at duly constituted authority. The fact that the Texas convention was held in conformity with law; that it was regular in every respect; that the delegates were duly and legally elected and certified had no persuasive power whatsoever."

"The Democrats of Texas will meet the challenge of these undemocratic elements and will make sure that they shall not gain control of the Democratic party of Texas."

Klein, who walked out of the trial July 5, leaving with Justice Eicher a note accusing the court of ignoring the rights of the defendants and their attorneys, has failed to re-appear in response to a contempt citation.

The citation charged the New York attorney with quitting the case without the court's permission. The warrant will be sent to the United States marshal in New York city.

Klein was defending Eugene N. Sanctuary, retired Army colonel. He had been fined twice for contempt before his departure.

WALLACE AND TRUMAN FIGHT FOR 2ND PLACE

By JACK BELL

Chicago Stadium, July 21 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace matched a CIO-wielded vote bloc against Senator Harry Truman's big town and southern backing today in a climactic battle for the Democratic vice presidential nomination. President Roosevelt gave the struggle new campaign importance by calling global warfare—not politics—his main business between now and November.

Renominated noisily and overwhelmingly with 1026 votes by a packed convention that booted the mention of opposing candidates, the President told his Democratic followers and the world at large by radio last night that he will not run for office in the usual political sense.

The President, who has given the nod to three potential running mates—Vice President Wallace, 60-year-old Truman, chairman of the Senate's War Investigating committee, and 45-year-old Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas—said nothing more about the second place contest. But the inference was broad that the No. 2 man must carry the political load.

CIO for Wallace

Whether that would have any effect on today's shakedown of a field of more than a dozen candidates remained problematical.

Wary delegates elbowing into the stadium for their final session found Wallace, always a shock of unruly hair hanging over his right eye, personally leading a crusading battle for what he termed "liberalism" and his own renomination.

Behind the scenes well-trained CIO members backed away at opposition strength in state delegations under the direction of Sidney Hillman, the labor organization's political action chairman.

Lined up behind Truman were National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan and such big city organization chiefs as Edward J. Flynn, New York City national committeeman, Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City and Mayor Edward Kelly of Chicago. Flynn tested his control with a New York delegation caucus this morning.

The Truman camp also had southern backing, indicated in part by Wallace's demand in a surprise Roosevelt nomination seconding speech yesterday that the party stand for equal voting and educational opportunity for the races, kill off the poll tax.

Turbulent Scenes

The convention washed up most of its controversies yesterday, adopting a platform which paralleled the President's delegation on foreign policy but contained a disputed plank declaring that "racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens."

Some southerners didn't like this and a part of the turbulent Texas delegation walked out. But even there, the sentiments for President Roosevelt's renomination was so strong that several remained.

The convention made short shrift of the anti-fourth term movement, giving Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia only 89 votes, with a single vote recorded for James A. Farley, who once was Mr. Roosevelt's No. 1 political strategist.

Farley was silent about this result but told reporters he intends to support Barkley for the vice presidential nomination.

Widespread Conspiracy

The first Soviet reaction broadcast by the Moscow radio was that the attempt on Hitler's life was "only one episode of a widespread conspiracy by a group of German generals and officers." This broadcast said it was considered significant that one German general after another had surrendered in the face of the current Red Army offensive without attempting to carry out Hitler's fight-to-the-death order.

Goering declared that every airplane flight must have the approval either of himself or Himmler—possibly a precaution to prevent any Hess-like flights or forestall any peace emissaries from reaching the Allies.

Himmler, whose reputation as a ruthless hangman is well known even within censor-ridden Germany, got quickly to work after Hitler named him "commander of the army at home."

As Is Falling

"This time we will settle accounts in such a manner as we National Socialists are wont," shouted Hitler. The ax fell first upon the colonel named by Hitler as hurling the bomb—a Count von Stauffenberg. Berlin announced he had been shot.

A succession of broadcasts declared the plot "had completely collapsed," one of them saying: "The ringleaders have partly committed suicide after their attempt had failed. Partly they were shot by battalions of the army. There were no incidents anywhere. All other people who have become guilty of crime by their attitude will be taken to account."

Chicago, July 21 (AP)—A treaty-protected free interchange of news as an instrument for lasting peace became a national goal today of the two major political parties.

Agreeing with the country's leading editors that the "free flow" among the peoples of "ideas and goods" will contribute to world development and tranquility in the postwar years, the Democratic convention wrote into its 1944 platform:

"We believe in the world right of all men to write, send and publish news at uniform communication rates and without interference by government or private monopoly, and that right should be protected by treaty."

The Republicans, who met here in June, adopted a plank asserting that "all channels of news must be kept open with equality of access to information at the source" and that if "agreement can be achieved with foreign nations to establish the same principles, it will be a valuable contribution to future peace."

The convention also had southern backing, indicated in part by Wallace's demand in a surprise Roosevelt nomination seconding speech yesterday that the party stand for equal voting and educational opportunity for the races, kill off the poll tax.

FDR, AT NAVAL BASE, ACCEPTS 4TH SELECTION

Chicago, July 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt chose the dramatic setting of a bustling wartime Naval base to fire his first shot in quest of a fourth term, an "obligation" he said he felt in order to bring about his plans for battle triumph, postwar prosperity and surety against another global explosion.

Once more, the three-time President turned to the unusual for his acceptance of the Democratic nomination.

From a Pacific coast base his voice came by radio to the jam-packed Chicago stadium last night, impelling the thousands who ordinarily would have whistled and shouted at every good catch phrase to sit in hushed silence, lest they lose a word.

In this atmosphere, with even the notepad peddlers outside quiet, Mr. Roosevelt blurted his case, although he insisted he will not campaign "in the usual sense" because, he doesn't think it is appropriate and moreover, he said, he doesn't have the time.

"Obligated to Serve"

As in 1940, Mr. Roosevelt said he would like to retire to private life; again as in 1940 he said new hands would take over when this four years ends. His decision this time he said is based "solely on a sense of obligation to serve" if the people so decide in November.

Between himself and Republican Thomas E. Dewey (to whom he did not refer personally) the President said the issue this time is simply:

Whether the nation will "turn over this 1944 job—this worldwide job—to inexperienced and immature hands, to those who opposed lend-lease and international cooperation against the forces of aggression and tyranny until they could read the polls of popular sentiment . . . or, whether they wish to leave it to those who saw the danger . . . who met it head-on."

The voters too will determine, he said, whether they will turn over the postwar tasks "to those who offered the veterans of the last war breadlines and apple-selling."

Mr. Roosevelt lifted up his record from the early New Deal days, through the pre-war worldwide battles and down to now. He said this election will be influenced by that record "written on the seas, on the land and in the skies."

It is written also he said in the figures on war production and food output, on the international food conference, the global relief setup known as UNRRA, the Atlantic charter drawn by Churchill on the high seas and his conferences at Casablanca, at Cairo, at Moscow, at Tehran.

Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas, wife of the actor and a candidate for congress from California, along with War Correspondent Quentin Reynolds kept the capacity house interested while waiting for the President's acceptance speech. Mrs. Douglas told the delegates Mr. Roosevelt has established the Democratic party as "the best friend the Republican rank and file voter has ever had."

Reynolds declared the men on the battlefield know a miracle has been performed, "under the leadership of their commander-in-chief."

ROOSEVELT AND PARTY TRAVEL ACROSS NATION

By HOWARD FIEGEL

A Pacific Coast Naval Base, July 20 (Thursday) (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight accepted nomination for a fourth term from a special train deep inside this mighty Naval base.

Mr. Roosevelt, accompanied by his top military aides, reached this base Wednesday night after a six-day transcontinental trip which was locked in the secrecy of military security.

Only a few hundred people saw the Presidential train as it moved through 16 states—a sharp contrast to the multitudes which jammed the route of presidents in peace time. Few of those who happened to see the train managed to guess the identity of its No. 1 passenger. He never let himself be seen.

The party left Washington the night of July 13, accompanied by reporters for the Associated Press, the United Press and the International News Service. It spent the next day at the Roosevelt home in Hyde Park, N. Y., where Mrs. Roosevelt joined the group, then made an overnight journey to Chicago. From then on the route cannot be told because of war-time security regulations restricting discussion of Presidential travel.

No Military Guards

With the President were Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of Staff to Mr. Roosevelt; Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, his military aide; Rear Adm. Wilson Brown, his Naval aide; Vice Adm. Ross T. McIntire, the President's physician, and Samuel I. Rosenman, special counsel to the President and one of Mr. Roosevelt's close advisors.

Also on the train was Elmer Davis, director of the office of war information, who explained to reporters he was not a member of the Presidential party. He said he plans to leave the group to make a personal inspection of OWI operations.

The trip was unattended by the military guards which stretched along previous war-time travel routes and always attracted crowds of curious spectators at most stops.

The President's fondness for his Scottie, Fala, tipped the trip to some spectators who happened to see the black pup being exercised along railroad sidings and identified him almost instantly.

DAMAGED SHOES TO BE RELEASED

On and after July 24, 1944, shoe dealers may apply to the Harrisburg District Office of Price Administration for authority to sell certain types of men's and women's factory-damaged shoes "ration-free," it was announced today.

Prices for the non-rationed sales will be limited to no more than $1.80 per pair to consumers, and no more than $1.20 per pair for sales between dealers. The rationing release is further restricted to shoes visibly damaged in the process of manufacture.

Today's action is taken to help dealers clear their stocks of these types of defective shoes, and to encourage use of the walking mileage such shoes can provide.

The shoes available will not be ready in the stores for several weeks because applications will not be acted upon until August 5, 1944.

Dealers can make only one application to release the shoes, and this must be done before August 31, 1944. However, there will be no time limit on the sales, which may be made at any time after the required non-rationed stickers have been attached.

All dealers who offer the shoes for sale to consumers in any notice or advertisement must refer to them as "OPA Release—Factory Damaged Shoes."

WALLACE AND TRUMAN FIGHT FOR 2ND PLACE

12 Freight Cars Are Derailed At Huntingdon Depot

Huntingdon, Pa., July 21 (AP)—Twelve cars of a regular 81-car east bound freight train were derailed early today in front of the main station of the Pennsylvania railroad, tying up traffic over the road's four main tracks to Chicago and the west.

A railroad spokesman said the cause of the derailment, which ripped up several hundred feet of track and scattered loaded and empty freight cars over the four tracks, was not immediately determined. No one was injured, the railroad said.

Six crack east bound passenger trains which were scheduled over the route, were derailed at Tyrone, Pa., over the Bald Eagle branch via Lock Haven, Williamsport, Sunbury and back on the main line at Harrisburg. The railroad spokesman said delays in schedules of the trains were expected to run as high as three hours.

ROOSEVELT AND PARTY TRAVEL ACROSS NATION

By HOWARD FLIEGER

A Pacific Coast Naval Base, July 20 (Thursday) (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight accepted nomination for a fourth term from a special train deep inside this mighty Naval base.

Mr. Roosevelt, accompanied by his top military aides, reached this base Wednesday night after a six-day transcontinental trip which was locked in the secrecy of military security.

Only a few hundred people saw the Presidential train as it moved through 16 states—a sharp contrast to the multitudes which jammed the route of presidents in peace time. Few of those who happened to see the train managed to guess the identity of its No. 1 passenger. He never left himself to be seen.

The party left Washington the night of July 13, accompanied by reporters for the Associated Press, the United Press and the International News Service. It spent the next day at the Roosevelt home in Hyde Park, N. Y., where Mrs. Roosevelt joined the group, then made an overnight journey to Chicago. From then on the route cannot be told because of war-time security regulations restricting discussion of Presidential travel.

No Military Guards

With the President were Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of Staff to Mr. Roosevelt; Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, his military aide; Rear Adm. Wilson Brown, his Naval aide; Vice Adm. Ross T. McIntire, the President's physician, and Samuel I. Rosenman, special counsel to the President and one of Mr. Roosevelt's close advisors.

Also on the train was Elmer Davis, director of the office of war information, who explained to reporters he was not a member of the Presidential party. He said he plans to leave the group to make a personal inspection of OWI operations.

The trip was unattended by the military guards which stretched along previous war-time travel routes—and always attracted crowds of curious spectators at most stops.

The President's fondness for his Scottie, Fala, tipped the trip to some spectators who happened to see the black pup being exercised along railroad sidings and identified him almost instantly.

Just Folks
LETTER FROM JOE
Joe writes: "Time was we talked, as you.
Of Catholic, Protestant and Jew,
Thought difference of creed and birth
Meant also difference of worth.
Time was—and I must tell you this—
Our minds were sick with prejudice,
But since in peril we have stood,
We have discovered brotherhood.

"Who shares an open raft at sea
Soon learns how brave his mates can be;
Just what they will or will not do,
Though Catholic, Protestant or Jew.
All difference of caste and creed
Is dropped when courage is the need!
Then one and all—er—black—and white,
In purpose and in prayer unite.
"When we get back 'tis this we'll know:
Man's worth is of the inner glow;
Not of his spoken creed or prayer,
But of his willingness to share;
His willingness of mind and heart
Whatever the task to do his part.
For when in peril men have stood
They've lived and practiced brotherhood."

Today's Talk

WAYS TO A HAPPY LIFE
Disension and bitterness of heart are two of the main roads away from contentment of spirit. Measure out the words from your heart. Pay a tribute to your mental control. Look thoughtfully into every problem of life, and listen tolerantly.

Take time to eat, to care for that marvelous machine of yours—your body! Consider the flowers of the earth and the silent message of beauty that they breathe forth. Treat events and emergencies in their turn. Be ready—brave!
Take time out to play, to serve a friend, to pray and to meditate. Life at the best is extremely short, but there is no need to hurry its end. Nature takes everything in its turn. We are children of Nature—and God is over all. Be silent in the face of reproaches. There are golden compensations for all injustice. Right travels on!

Self-mastery is the key to self-happiness. "Know thyself," said Socrates. "To thine own self be true," said Shakespeare. "I am the master of my fate," said Benley. And in the Bible you will find the statement that the man who rules his own spirit is greater than he who takes a city. Happiness rests with the one who owns himself, and demonstrates it.

There is unity of man, beast, flower and earth. Only as we conform and enter into the universal spirit of all other all are we ready to experience the fruits of contentment and personal happiness. All fault-finding is destructive. But constructive action toward a definite goal, or high purpose, is intellectual and spiritual progress.

The way and means to a happy life lies within reach of us. There is hidden the secret. To search for our—sins to find it—is the ultimate joy. All around us are agents, with willing hands outstretched, ready to bless us on. Happiness is a thing to hunt for—but something to find in our work.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Dorism"—a new Dawn.

JACKSON SAYS FOR WILL WIN FOURTH TERM

Chicago Stadium, July 21 (AP)—Senator Samuel D. Jackson, of Indiana, declaring wartime is no time to change administrations, told the Democratic Convention Thursday that the ballot box must not become "Hitler's secret weapon." The Commander-in-Chief, he said, must not be taken from the fighting forces overseas.

Taking over as permanent chairman, Jackson told the convention he was confident of an election victory next November because "the American electorate will not vote for change, interruption and delay" in winning the war.

Will Win War
"America will win this war finally and completely, no matter who is elected President of the United States next November," he said. "But how many battleships would a Democratic defeat be worth to Tojo?"

"How many Nazi legions would it be worth to Adolf Hitler?" "Frankly, could Goebbels himself do better to bolster Axis morale than the word that the American people have upst this administration—the administration that made it possible for the Russians to drive the Nazis back to the Prussian border?"

Jackson developed the theme also that the Republicans thwarted moves for a lasting peace after World War I, sought to hamstring defense preparations before the current conflict, and in three terms under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, "led us into the depths of depression."

Hits Dewey's Age
He hit hard at 42-year-old Governor Thomas E. Dewey's references to "old, tired and quarrelsome men" in the Roosevelt Administration, uttered when Dewey accepted the Republican Presidential nomination.

President Roosevelt, Jackson declared, "has more rugged vitality in him today than any two men the opposition has to offer."

"Moreover," he added, "the refrain 'old, tired and quarrelsome' is a gratuitous and contemptible attack upon all persons of mature age."

"We might not condemn," he continued, "our adversaries' selection of a candidate so young, but we do expose the hypocrisy in their claim that the Presidency now needs a man of just his age."

"What the Presidency demands now is not so much a bright young man as a man of wisdom and experience, with depth and breadth of vision."

July 21, 1940—British Air Ministry announces British planes have dropped more than 57 tons of high explosive bombs and hundreds of incendiaries on two German aircraft factories, raided Nazi positions in the Ruhr valley, Netherlands and northern France, set fire to oil tanks near Bremen; French pilots participated in some of these raids.

Wakefield, 23-year-old outfielder who is awaiting a return to the nation's armed forces, has three home runs and a .323 batting average in the nine games since he was honorably discharged as a Naval Aviation Cadet. He has driven in ten runs with 12 hits.

"I'm expecting to hear from my draft board almost any day, and I have applied for a Navy commission," said the strapping former University of Michigan athlete today. "But while I'm waiting I'll get all the hits I can."

Wakefield accumulated an even 200 hits last season while finishing second to Luke Appling, of Chicago, for the league batting title. The year before, he won the Texas League title at Beaumont.

Before Wakefield arrived, the Tigers were catalogued as a reasonably good pitching and fielding team with little batting punch. The pitching staff is largely Hal Newhouser and Paul Trout, producers of 14 and 12 victories, respectively.

Rudy York, the 1943 Major League home run champion, wasn't having a good year, but Wakefield's presence seems to have aroused something in the big first baseman.

In other words, as long as Wakefield is around

An Evening Thought

The disposition to give a cup of cold water to a disciple, is a far nobler property than the finest intellect.—Howells.

Just Folks

LETTER FROM JOE
Joe writes: "Time was we talked, as you.

Of Catholic, Protestant and Jew; Thought difference of creed and birth Meant also difference of worth. Time was—I must tell you this— Our minds were sick with prejudice, But since in peril we have stood, We have discovered brotherhood.

"Who shares an open raft at sea Soon learns how brave his mates can be; Just what they will or will not do, Though Catholic, Protestant or Jew.

All difference of caste and creed Is dropped when courage is the need;

Then one and all, or black and white, In purpose and in prayer unite.

"When we get back 'tis this we'll know: Man's worth is of the inner glow; Not of his spoken creed or prayer, But of his willingness to share; His willingness of mind and heart What'er the task to do his part. For when in peril men have stood They've lived and practiced brotherhood."

Today's Talk

WAYS TO A HAPPY LIFE

Dissension and bitterness of heart are two of the main roads away from contentment of spirit. Measure out the words from your heart. Pay a tribute to your mental control. Look thoughtfully into every problem of life, and listen tolerantly.

Take time to eat, to care for that marvelous machine of yours—your body; consider the flowers of the earth and the silent message of beauty that they breathe forth. Treat events and emergencies in their turn. Be ready—brave!

Take time out to play, to serve a friend, to pray and to meditate. Life at the best is extremely short, but there is no need to hurry its end. Nature takes everything in its turn. We are children of Nature—and God is over all. Be silent in the face of reproaches. There are golden compensations for all injustice. Right travels on!

Self-mastery is the key to self-happiness. "Know thyself," said Socrates. "To thine own self be true," said Shakespeare. "I am the master of my fate," said Henry. And in the Bible you will find the statement that the man who rules his own spirit is greater than he who takes a city. Happiness rests with the one who owns himself, and demonstrates it.

There is unity of man, beast, flower and earth. Only as we conform and enter into the universal spirit of all over all are we ready to experience the fruits of contentment and personal happiness.

All fault-finding is destructive. But constructive action toward a definite goal, or high purpose, is intellectual and spiritual progress.

The way and means to a happy life lies within each of us. Therein is hidden the secret. To search it out—and to find it—is the ultimate joy. All around us are agents, with willing hands outstretched, ready to bless us on. Happiness is not a thing to hunt for—but something to find in your work.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Darkness—And Dawn."

JACKSON SAYS FDR WILL WIN FOURTH TERM

Chicago Stadium, July 21 (AP)—Senator Samuel D. Jackson, of Indiana, declaring wartime is no time to change administrations, told the Democratic Convention Thursday that the ballot box must not become "Hitler's secret weapon." The Commander-in-Chief, he said, must not be taken from the fighting forces overseas.

Taking over as permanent chairman, Jackson told the convention he was confident of an election victory next November because "the American electorate will not vote for change, interruption and delay" in winning the war.

Will Win War
"America will win this war finally and completely, no matter who is elected President of the United States next November," he said.

"But how many battleships would a Democratic defeat be worth to Tojo?"

"How many Nazi legions would it be worth to Adolf Hitler?"

"Frankly, could Goebbels himself do better to bolster Axis morale than the word that the American people have upset this administration—the administration that made it possible for the Russians to drive the Nazis back to the Prussian border?"

Jackson developed the theme also that the Republicans thwarted moves for a lasting peace after World War I, sought to hamstring defense preparations before the current conflict, and in three terms under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, "led us into the depths of depression."

Hits Dewey's Age

He hit hard at 42-year-old Governor Thomas E. Dewey's references to "old, tired and quarrelsome men" in the Roosevelt Administration, uttered when Dewey accepted the Republican Presidential nomination.

President Roosevelt, Jackson declared, "has more rugged vitality in him today than any two men the opposition has to offer."

"Moreover," he added, "the refrain 'old, tired and quarrelsome' is a gratuitous and contemptible attack upon all persons of mature age."

"We might not condemn," he continued, "our adversaries' selection of a candidate so young, but we do expose the hypocrisy in their claim that the Presidency, now, needs a man of just his age."

"What the Presidency demands now is not so much a bright young man as a man of wisdom and experience, with depth and breadth of vision."

2,000 PLANES
TOP STORM TO BLAST REICH

London, July 21 (AP)—An American fleet of nearly 2,000 planes flew above a howling channel northeast today and attacked Germany for the fourth consecutive day, striking Regensburg, Schweinfurt and a number of other targets.

More than 1,100 heavy bombers and around 1,000 fighters formed the attack armada.

The Germans reported simultaneous raids by another big American fleet from Italy, duplicating the coordinated assaults from west and south of the previous three days.

During the squally night, a force of around 1,000 RAF heavy bombers pummeled objectives in Germany, France and Belgium, losing 31 planes. The major rail yards of Courtrai bottlenecking three trunk lines leading to the Normandy battlefields were targets, along with German oil plants at Homberg and Bottrop-Welheim in the Ruhr, the port of Hamburg, robot bomb platforms in northern France and road convoys north and south of Paris.

Italy-based planes struck around the river Po and in Yugoslavia.

Pound Bearing Works

An airplane plant was bombed at Regensburg in southeast Germany, 50 miles north of Munich. The much bombed ball bearing works of Schweinfurt, in the southwest Reich 475 miles from Britain bases, were worked over again.

Within the past four days Germany and objectives on her immediate fringes have been hit by Allied air armadas totaling more than 10,000 planes—most of them American.

The RAF lost 31 bombers on all night operations. The air ministry said one of the German installations in northern France attacked yesterday evening was a "site believed connected with the enemy's threatened use of long-range rocket."

Nazi flying-bombs continued crashing in southern England. The Germans said regular planes also were participating in the attack.

On the Normandy battlefield night-flying Mosquitos attacked highway convoys north of Paris and a Seine crossing south of Paris.

The Germans reported intense night air battles over Germany, Belgium and Holland, and claimed—without confirmation—that 37 Allied bombers had been downed.

Nine Allied planes were reported lost on the Courtrai mission.

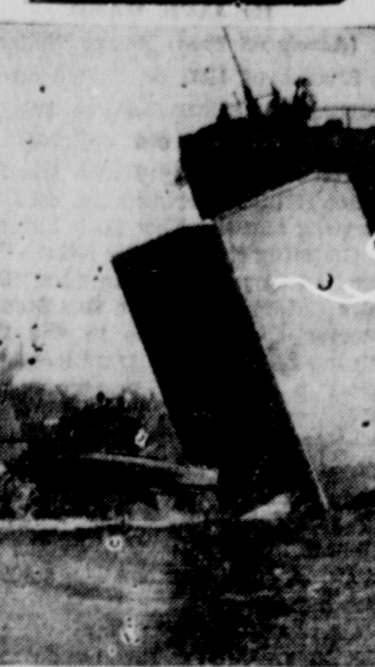

KILLED BY TIRE

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 21 (AP)—John Kitchenski, 17, of Tunkhannock, a farm hand, was killed last night when an automobile tire which he was repairing blew out and the tire rim struck him on the head.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Hatfield, Pa., July 21 (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Cassell, 28, was killed by a Bethlehem-to-Philadelphia Reading railroad train last night at a grade crossing.

Chapter 18

Martha had felt certain that many of their problems, especially the financial ones, would be solved when Angel's allotment came through. She had figured it all out.

Louise had opened the charge account—and Angel had bought clothes. True, Angel did need clothes. Martha had to concede that. Angel couldn't afford to look shabby when she was trying for a spot in a night club. And now that she'd finally landed one, in a little club near the plant, she needed so many things. It was a shame the job paid so little. It was almost worse than no job at all!

There were times when Martha felt that the entire Malone family was trapped. "We'd be better off if we were plain dirt poor and didn't care who knew it," she would tell herself at such times. "Then we could appeal to charity. It's terrible to be so proud—and so poor. Not that we're destitute," she would amend hastily. "We're just poor enough to be trapped."

A carriage for Baby Jeanne was first on the list of "musts" when the allotment came through. And then, Martha hoped, she could take the baby to a really good doctor—a child specialist—for a complete check-up. Baby Jeanne wasn't well.

They had called in a neighborhood doctor who had given the baby a cursory examination and suggested the impossible. "She should be taken out of the city for the rest of the summer," he'd announced, in a tone that was kindly and sympathetic enough. But he'd offered no solution as to how such a miracle could be brought about.

At last the allotment had come through. It was only eighty dollars, for the War department was still unwilling to concede that Jimmie Saunders was dead. Moreover, there seemed to be some mystery connected with the allotment's long delay, which Martha did not understand and Angel chose not to explain. Martha had not questioned her daughter, but when Angel had gone out and spent the entire sum for two new evening dresses with accessories to match, she had been righteously indignant. For the first time in Angel's life Martha had called her to task.

Heretofore she'd always had a blind spot where Angel was concerned. Angel could do no wrong. But the thought that she would go out and buy evening clothes when her own baby needed so many things shamed and sickened Martha.

"But, Mother—" Angel began, looking at Martha in amazement. When Martha returned her glance with an uncompromising stare, she turned away. "After all, it's my money," she said. "You seem to forget that."

"And it's your baby too," Martha pointed out. "You seem to forget that. You seem—" her voice broke. She made a futile little gesture with her hands, then added in a gentler tone:

"I—I don't want to worry you, dear, or to make things any harder for you. But I must tell you again that Baby Jeanne is a sick child."

For a moment Angel had the grace to look frightened; then she shrugged. "I wish you wouldn't be such an alarmist, Mother. Baby Jeanne isn't sick—you've just spoiled her, with your old-fashioned coddling, picking her up every time she whimpers."

Martha spoke with an effort. "Perhaps I have spoiled her. I don't know. I may be old-fashioned, but I believe babies should be loved. They need it—that's what mothers are for."

Angel seemed not to have heard. She was sitting in the living room, giving herself a manicure, and did not look up as she spoke. "As for the dark apartment," she snapped, "it certainly isn't my fault that you and Louise insist on living in such a dreadful place. I never could see Brooklyn anyhow, except for Shore Road or possibly the Heights. And as for my allotment money—you seem to have had a grand time figuring out how to spend it, even before it arrived!"

Before she realized what she was doing, before she could restrain herself, Martha had walked over and slapped Angel hard, first on one cheek, then on the other. Then she drew back, trembling, appalled at what she had done.

The bottle of nail polish which Angel had been using fell to the floor, its contents making a long crimson splotch on the rug. Angel stood up, staring at her mother in stupefied amazement, her hands raised to her face as if to ward off further blows.

"Mother!" she wailed. "Oh—everybody's turned against me, and for no reason at all. Even you, Mother!"

She burst into a storm of tears and ran to her room, slamming the door shut behind her. For a long time Martha remained standing where Angel had left her, still unable to comprehend what had happened. Slap Angel? Why, it seemed incredible. Yet she had. And her only sensation was that of relief!

KEE WILLIAMS DEFEATS KOGON

New York, July 21 (AP)—Ike Williams, Trenton, N. J., lightweight, boasted his 43rd professional fight victory in 44 starts today.

The hard-hitting Negro, loser only to Bob Montgomery who holds the New York version of the lightweight title, won by a country mile over Julie Kogon of New Haven, Conn., last night in Madison Square Garden 10-rounder before 6,543 fans who paid $18.34.

Although Kogon has never been knocked down in 90 fights, his knees buckled several times when Williams' right caught him on the chin. Each time, however, he surged into a clinch and hung on until the fog cleared.

In the tenth, most exciting round of the uneventful affair, Julie tackled Williams about the waist after taking one on the chin, waltzed him across the ring, and both fighters sprawled through the ropes. Williams, pinned down by Kogon, couldn't get up, and Julie appeared content to stay there.

George Walsh, counting for the knockdowns, started tolling and when the count reached six referee Frank Fullam pulled Kogon back into the ring. He did the same for Williams at eight, and they waltzed to the finish.

Billy Arnold, Philadelphia welterweight, scored his 21st knockout in 23 winning fights, getting a TKO over Bernie Miller of Harlem in the fourth round.

OWLS LOSE 10TH STRAIGHT GAME

(By The Associated Press)

The York White Roses and the Allentown Cardinals slipped into a third place deadlock in the Interstate baseball league today, a game and a half behind the second place Hagerstown Owls.

The cellar-dwelling Trenton Packers staged a surprise upset when they pushed over seven runs in the first inning against York and then rallied again for four more runs in the eighth to beat out a 13 to 11 victory over the White Roses.

Allentown's Cardinals spotted the Hagerstown Owls six runs in the first inning and then swept ahead to gain a 12 to 7 decision and the third straight win over the Owls. It was the tenth consecutive loss for the former league-leading Owls.

The Red Birds knocked Julius Morgan out of the box in the seventh when Manager Ollie Vanek doubled with the bases loaded to tie the score at 7-7. Vernon Rider came through in the eighth for the Cardinals when he banged out a homer with the bases loaded to clinch the victory for Allentown.

The doubleheader scheduled at Wilmington with Lancaster was rained out.

BROWNS TRIM YANKEES 7 TO 3 WITH 2 HOMERS

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Shades of 1920 descended on the current American League pennant race today as the old "spit ball" argument was dragged into the first place struggle between the St. Louis Browns and the New York Yankees.

Claiming that Pitcher Nelson Potter had been tossing "spitters," Umpire Cal Hubbard gave the Browns starter the heave-ho in the fifth inning of a 0-0 ball game last night after a prolonged argument with Manager Luke Sewell that brought a shower of pop bottles and hats. Since 1920 all such freak deliveries have been banned except for a list of registered spitballers. Burleigh Grimes, who retired from the big show in 1934, was the last man on the list.

Ex-Yanks Star

Two ex-Yankee farmhands made the St. Louis fans forget the "spitter" incident by smashing home runs in a 5-run seventh inning rally that gave the Browns a 7-3 victory and upped their lead to three full games. Mike Chartak, who played most of the towns in the Yank circuit, clouted his as a pinch-hitter with two on and Lefty McQuinn, who was New York property in the minors for seven years, hit the other with one on, dooming Hank Borowy.

Relief man Denny (part-time) Galehouse was credited with first win of the season.

While the Browns were stretching their lead, the Cardinals moved two more steps toward an early September clincher by downing the New York Giants twice, 10-2 and 6-2, in 11 innings. Mort Cooper had no trouble in grabbing the opener over Roubie Jack. Brewer and Teddy Wilkes had to have a four-run 11th inning to decision Rube Fischer. By the double victory, St. Louis moved 13 games ahead of Cincinnati, their largest margin of the year.

Cubs in Cellar

Boston dropped Chicago back into the national cellar by two 5-4 victories, the first behind Jim Tobin who singled in the 14th and scored the big run to top Paul Derringer. Connie Ryan's double won the nightcap for Ira Hutchinson over Claude Passeau. The Braves tied for sixth with Brooklyn as the Dodgers were shut out, 6-0, by Cincinnati's Harry Gumbert.

Ray Starr hurled Pittsburgh to an opening 4-1 edge over the Phils' Bill Lee but Ford Mullen singled with the bases loaded in the 11th to even matters with a 3-2 edge for reliever Charley Schanz over Xavier Rescigno.

Boston's Red Sox became the first club to take a season series by whipping the White Sox, 11-7, for their 12th decision in 13 starts against Chicago with Bobby Doerr boosting his average to .338 and taking over the R.B.I. lead. Detroit shaded Washington, 7-6, on the slugging of Rudy York and Dick Wakefield. Steve Gromek hurled Cleveland to a 2-1 whisker over Philadelphia.

Seek 50 Millions In Bonds At Fight

New York, July 21 (AP)—It will cost $75,000 for a front-row seat at the fourth fight between Beau Jack and Bob Montgomery in a little over a year. The war loan sports committee, sponsoring the bout in Madison Square Garden, next month, has established a price scale ranging from a $25 war bond, selling for $18.75, for the gallery and other low-priced seats up to a $100,000 bond, which actually costs $75,000, for the 80 seats in the first row at the ringside. It is hoped to realize $50,000,000 in bond sales from the bout.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 21 (AP)—The big feature of the 1944 football season may be the rise of Army teams and the decline of those Navy powerhouses that have ruled the roost for the past couple of years.

The colleges won't be getting so much good Navy-Marine material and the pre-flight schools won't be much better off than the colleges.

But reports trickling in here say you can expect some high-powered stuff from the four Army Air Force teams at Charlotte, North Carolina, Colorado Springs, Randolph Field, Tex., and March Field, California.

The March Field team has special permission to recruit players from all regions for its game with the Redskins.

Other teams that may have considerable strength are the Lincoln, Nebraska, and Spokane, Washington, Air bases, Kessler Field, Mississippi, which had a big-time program tossed out two years ago, and Fort Warren, Wyoming, coached by an old Dodger, Capt. Willis Smith, who already has scheduled an exhibition against the renamed Brooklyn Tigers.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Marine Sgt. Charles Kopp, Camp Lejeune (N. C.) Globe: "Frank Sincich, discharged from the Marine corps and Maritime service for physical reasons, now has been turned down by the Army. The famous University of Georgia football graduate has pigeon-toes, flat feet (with mercurial heels) high blood pressure and a heart murmur. The real explanation seems to be that this Yankee played his heart out for Georgia."

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Claude (Rosebud) Crocker, University of North Carolina pitcher recently signed by the Dodgers, took up baseball two years ago to keep in shape for playing on a Class B high school football team. . . . Basketball is the No. 1 sport with Chinese soldiers, who even put up baskets and backboards in jungle clearings. They average only five-foot-five but have remarkable endurance. . . . Herman Taylor, the Philly fight promoter, predicts that Jackie Floyd will be the next featherweight champion. Jackie fights for Herman next week. . . . At a recent war bond auction at Albany, New York, Ripper Collins brought a bid of two and a half million bucks. Wonder what it would have been if the Senators weren't quite so far behind Hartford?

Olean Trips Batavia In Pony Loop Tilt

Buffalo, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—The Olean Oilers played the Batavia Clippers under 8-1 in the Pony league last night. The Oilers scored one run in each of five innings, and added three more in the ninth, one of them a homer knocked over the right field wall.

For the second night in succession the Hornell Pirates scored a victory over the Erie Sailors and took a stronger grasp on their newly-won fourth place spot in the league standings. Holding the Sailors scoreless for the first seven innings, and allowing them five hits in the eighth, Hornell came out on top 8-5.

The Jamestown-Wellsville game was postponed because of rain, and the Lockport-Bradford contest because of wet grounds.

SAILOR JAILED FOR FAILING TO PAY COURT COST

Luther L. Deardorff, North York, who has been in the U. S. Navy since January, will be in the York county jail and absent from his duty for the next year unless he is able to raise a considerable sum of money to pay the expenses of an Adams county man he injured almost three years ago.

Deardorff was sent to jail Monday by Judge Walter I. Anderson for nine months in a case in which he was charged with driving a car without consent of the owner and with aggravated assault and battery. He was given an additional 90 days for driving another car without the owner's consent this month.

It was the latter offense that brought Deardorff before the court Monday. Had he not been involved in the latter case he would not have been available for civilian punishment until after the war when he is discharged from the Navy.

On October 25, 1941, while driving the car of Orpha A. Snyder, North York, without her consent, Deardorff crashed into another car, W. E. Harbold, Bernadine, Adams county, was seriously injured. A day or so later, Deardorff was before the court, which delayed sentence pending outcome of Harbold's injuries.

A year and a day after the crash, Deardorff entered a plea of guilty. Sentence was suspended on condition that he would re-establish his home, pay the costs and make restitution to Harbold. He paid part of the costs but nothing to Harbold. In May, 1943, he was given another chance but failed to comply with the court order, although up until the time he entered the Navy in January he had a job at "good wages."

Last week, Deardorff arrived in York, supposedly on leave. He drove away with the car of Paul E. Ophlin, York, and was arrested with it.

65 PLUMBING AND HEATING ITEMS OPENED

Dollars-and-cents ceiling prices have been set for 65 used and reconditioned plumbing and heating items, and maximum prices provided for most others by applying a specified percentage discount from the manufacturer's list price for the article when new, the OPA announced July 15.

The new regulation, effective August 9, covers sales at both retail and wholesale, with prices based generally on March 1942 levels.

Items covered include used plumbing and heating material, reconditioned heating equipment, automatic hot water heaters, and second and culis of new items. They are made available to dealers by building wreckers who salvage the plumbing and heating materials. Now that old buildings are being improved sufficiently to make them last out the war, wrecking of buildings is virtually at a standstill.

Demand Is Increasing
The curtailment of production of new plumbing and heating equipment, and the limitation of sales to those holding essential priority ratings have caused a greatly increased demand for the used and reconditioned items.

The new specific prices will end confusion in the industry as to applicable ceiling prices, and will protect consumers from paying unreasonable prices. At the same time, the normal relationship between the prices of new and used and reconditioned plumbing and heating equipment will be re-established.

Items covered by the dollars-and-cents prices include bathtubs, lavatories, sinks, faucets, shower bath fixtures, cast-iron radiators, etc. For items not listed in the price schedule—such as reconditioned

54TH WEDDING DAY

Mr. and Mrs. John E. McDonnell, of Gettysburg, marked their fifty-fourth wedding anniversary today while on a visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McDonnell, Drexel Hill.

HELD AS VAGRANTS

Richard Gray, Winter Haven, Fla., and John Singleton, Savannah, Ga., were charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore with being vagrants. The charges were laid Saturday by Borough Officer Clark W. Staley. The men were confined today to the county jail.

Wounded Soldier In U. S. Hospital

Sergeant Roy K. Mickle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mickle, Orrtanna, R. I., torpedoed twice off Casablanca in November, 1942, and seriously wounded in the invasion of France, has arrived in this country for medical treatment.

Sergeant Mickle telephoned his parents from New York on Saturday advising them that he had just arrived from England by plane and that he was being sent to the Valley Forge Memorial hospital where he will undergo an operation on his leg.

The Orrtanna soldier suffered shrapnel wounds in the shoulder, leg and right thumb during the invasion of France. He was removed to a hospital in England and later returned to the states by airplane.

In his telephone conversation on Saturday from New York he told his parents that he was "feeling fine" but gave no details of his wounding, the nature of his injuries or other information.

He was torpedoed out of two ships during the invasion of Casablanca within a 22-hour period. The second rescue ship took him to the states. Mickle has crossed the Atlantic five times.

SET DATES FOR USO WAR FUND DRIVE IN COUNTY

October 15 to November 1 was set as the time for the annual USO War Fund campaign in Adams county, at the July meeting of the USO board of directors of the county, Monday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg.

At the same session the board confirmed the selection of Paul A. Kinsey as campaign chairman. Mr. Kinsey managed the campaign for the USO fund in this county in 1943.

The county quota for the coming drive, accepted by the county board at its June session, is $28,959.52. The 15-county area including this county is being asked to raise $1,097,000.

Chairman Kinsey already has indicated that the emphasis in the coming canvass is to be put upon complete coverage of the county. He is engaged now in selecting district and community chairmen who direct the canvass in every section of the county.

May Open Headquarters
Staffs of solicitors will be contacted later and will be given supplies and instructions to ring every doorbell in every town in the county and to contact as many of the rural homes as is possible.

The board indicated at its meeting Monday that arrangements will be made to open campaign headquarters in Gettysburg to facilitate the distribution of supplies to the canvassers. The campaign headquarters may be set up at the USO canteen on Chambersburg street. It was indicated, although there has not been a final decision on this matter.

Dean W. E. Tilberg, president of the county USO organization, presided at Monday's meeting when Mrs. Frederic E. Crist presented a report for the canteen committee, and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh for the dance committee. The Rev. Kenneth D. James, new member of the board from Littlestown, attended the session.

The group decided to omit the August meeting and to meet next in September.

Lt. Spicer graduated from Harlan, Ky., high school and attended the University of Tennessee for three years. He received his wings and commission as second lieutenant at Mather Field, Cal., August 21, 1943.

URGES WOMEN TO CONTINUE SELLING BONDS

Mrs. Henry T. Bream, chairman of the Women's Division of the county War Finance Committee, today made an urgent appeal to all women volunteer bond workers to extend their efforts in the sale of "E" bonds during the remainder of the month.

"We have been urged by the state committee to conduct an intensive drive, during the remainder of the Fifth War Bond campaign which closes July 31, for the sale of E bonds in order to attain our quota."

"Although the state has reached its over-all quota it is far behind in E bond sales. This is one phase of the campaign that the Treasury department has stressed and it is important that we lend our efforts in the drive."

"Adams county is also far behind in its E bond sales and unless we carry on an intensive drive through the rest of the month we will fail to reach our goal," Mrs. Bream said. Mrs. Bream also reminded the women workers that a war bond is to be given to the woman who sells the most bonds during the drive. Some women, she said, have sold more than 100 bonds. The winner will not be determined until after the close of the campaign.

Additional bond sales through the Women's Division Friday totaled $19,893.75.

This included: $7,918.75 from New Oxford; $5,300 from Biglerville; $2,550 from Cashtown; $1,575 from Arundsville; $1,650 each from Littlestown and Gettysburg and $50 from Fairfield.

Women of the Moose reported sales of $14,800 in bonds and $245 in stamps at their booths in the Moose lodge and at Murphy's. The booths will be open until the close of the drive.

Victory Cradle Roll sales include the following:
New Oxford: Joyce Elaine Wolford by Mr. and Mrs. J. Alton Wolford; Anna Ruth Milhimes by Miss Z. Ruth Sponseller; Virginia Hansborough Bowling by Mrs. Margaret Snyder Bowling; Earl Joseph Kaiser, Jr., by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kaiser.

Grove; Linda Jane Ealy by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Snyder; Paul Allen Bowman by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bowman; Donna Lou Millo by Harry J. Koonitz; William Edward Jacobs by Mr. and Mrs. Luke Jacobs.

NO VIOLATORS OF OPA HERE

In the recent survey on means conducted by Price Panels of War Price and Rationing Boards throughout this ten-county area, 50 per cent of the stores were found in violation of posting, grading, and price ceiling regulations. It was announced Tuesday by the Harrisburg District Office of Price Administration.

A total of 337 stores were checked, 222 of which were found in full compliance, according to the OPA. Grading violations aggregated 230. In 82 instances, beef was not graded at all, and in 198 others, the grade was not marked on cuts. A total of 200 posting violations were also found.

Boards which reported no violations in any of their stores were Chambersburg, Gettysburg, Lewisport, Myerstown, and New Oxford.

The Regional Office of Price Administration has recommended that compliance conferences be held throughout the District during the latter part of July. It is anticipated that a great many violations will be eliminated through discussion and clarification of the requirements of the meat regulations, which is the primary purpose of the proposed conference.

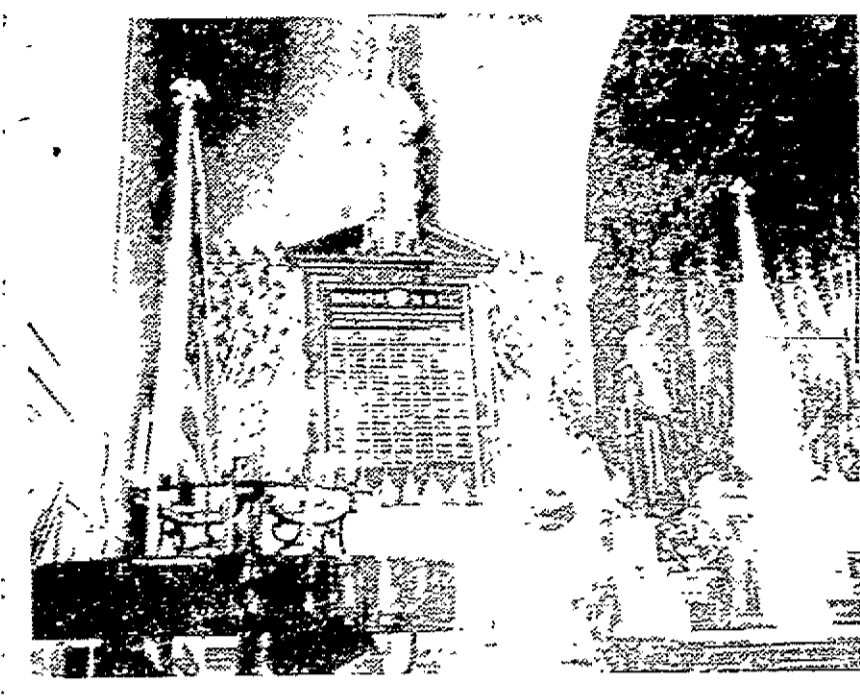

Must Show Tire Inspection Record

Applicants for supplemental gasoline allotments and for tires were reminded today by a ration board announcement that the tire inspection record for the vehicle involved must accompany each application.

Although no inspection of tires is required for securing supplemental gasoline rations at the present time, the record belonging to a car for which extra gas or a new tire is asked must be sent to the ration board, the statement emphasized.

Order 3,000 Sets Of G-I Ballots

Three thousand military ballot sets were ordered from the state Wednesday by the Adams county commissioners at their regular meeting at the court house.

Approximately 2,500 of the sets will be sent to soldiers and sailors from the county eligible for the military ballot while the remainder will be sent to the 42 election districts in the county so that any member of the armed forces home on leave who wish can vote at his regular election house in November.

RETAILERS ARE ASKED TO BOOM "E" BOND SALES
The State War Finance committee has appealed to the Gettysburg Retail committee of the county War Finance committee to extend their efforts to sell the allotted quota of "E" bonds during the Fifth War Bond drive which closes at midnight July 31.

The telegram from George P. Gable, state chairman of the Retail division, to Mares Sherman, chairman of the local retail committee follows:
"Pennsylvania is lagging behind in E bond sales. All War Finance Divisions are making a special effort: July 25 and 26 to improve E bond sales."

"It is suggested that you confer with your retailers and your newspapers to use week-end advertisements and put on a special drive on the above date. A one hundred dollar quota per person is suggested. These two days are called mop up days and it is most important that we get large additional sales of E bonds those days."

Local Appeal
Mr. Sherman Wednesday issued an appeal to all retailers and their employees to join in the drive to sell the quota of E bonds assigned Adams county.

"I know that all of our retailers and their employees are one hundred per cent Americans and are backing the war effort to the fullest. I am appealing to them again to exert their every effort to join the rest of the state in this all-out drive to reach our E bond quota."

"If each individual set a goal of one $100 bond during the remainder of the campaign I believe we can reach our quota."

Edmund W. Thomas, county chairman, added an appeal to all volunteer workers to increase the tempo in E bond sales during the remainder of the campaign.

Lee Breaks Arm, But Hopes To Pitch Again
Chicago, July 21 (AP)—Thorn-ton (Lefty) Lee, White Sox pitcher, whose services for the season were believed ended July 8 when he suffered a break in his left forearm when hit by a line drive, says he will be back in uniform in a couple of weeks, and will be ready for mound duty early in August.

The big southpaw, one of the two Sox lefties, said an examination disclosed that the break involved a small bone and that the injury has not impeded the movement of his elbow or fingers.

CYCLIST DIES OF INJURIES IN CAR COLLISION

Donald Lester Boland, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boland, Emmitsburg, died at 9:55 o'clock Thursday evening in the Warner hospital of injuries he suffered Sunday evening when he collided with an automobile while riding a bicycle toward Gettysburg a short distance north of Emmitsburg on the main highway.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, signed a certificate attributing death to a fracture of the skull suffered in the accident. His other injuries include multiple fractures of the jaw and face bones, and lacerations of the right arm, forehead and face.

After the accident reports from Emmitsburg stated that Donald had been riding in the direction of Gettysburg when he swerved to the left to pass a car as another machine passed, traveling the opposite direction. The bicycle struck the south-bound car and knocked Boland to the highway. A door handle was knocked off the auto by the force of the impact.

Funeral On Monday
The driver of the car, who was said to be from Graceham, Maryland, took the youth to the office of Dr. W. R. Cadle, Emmitsburg. From there he was brought to the hospital here. His condition became steadily more serious.

The youth was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic church at Emmitsburg and had been residing with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Winebrenner, Fairfield R. 2, north of Emmitsburg along the Gettysburg highway. The parents and grandparents survive as do two brothers and three sisters: Sgt. Joseph Boland, Camp Bowie, Texas; Betty, Mary, Patrick and Rose Boland, all at home.

Funeral services Monday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic church at Emmitsburg with the Rev. Father Dunn officiating. Interment in the church cemetery.

LOCAL SEAMAN PREPARES FOR INVASION DUTY

S-1c William H. Small, Gettysburg, is nearing completion of his course which is preparing him for service with the amphibious forces aboard an LST, Landing Ship Tank, one of the largest of the Navy's invasion fleet.

Seaman Small has been assigned to the crew of an LST at the Amphibious Training Base, Camp Bradford, Va., where he is going through the strenuous training required of bluejackets who man the beach-hopping tank carriers.

Heavier than a modern destroyer, the 300-foot LST lands assault troops and equipment directly onto enemy beachheads, under the protective bombardment of heavy warships and Navy planes.

Seek 80,000 Ships
Despite its size and weight, the landing vessel is designed to navigate shallow approaches to hostile beaches, spilling its troops and tanks ashore through huge bow doors.

Camp Bradford, where Seaman Small is stationed, is one of a group of bases operated by the Amphibious Training Command of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet along the eastern seaboard. The Bradford base is readying thousands of Navy men to operate the ships of the amphibious fleet, fast growing toward its year-end goal of 80,000 new landing craft.

Seaman Small is a son of Walker Small, Gettysburg, formerly of Edgegrove. Mrs. Small resides with her parents in Gettysburg.

PITCHES HAY ON 88TH BIRTHDAY

Crist Shank, Biglerville R. 1, spent his eighty-eighth birthday anniversary Monday, as he has spent many other birthdays—pitching hay. He worked along with other haves hands Monday on the farm of A. H. Friedline, Biglerville R. D., near Benders church, just as he did on Saturday and as he expects to continue doing.

Mr. Shank, who has engaged in farming and truck gardening all of his life resides between Biglerville and Arundsville and frequently walks two miles to Biglerville to shop or transact other business. For many years he attended Farmers Market here.

He was born and reared in Adams county and is a lifelong member of the Mummasburg Mennonite church.

On Saturday after Mr. Shank had spent the day pitching hay in the fields and working in the mow while the wagons were unloaded, he was guest of honor at a birthday dinner at the Friedline home. His wife was there as were his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shank, and their son, Nelson, Jr., and the members of the Friedline family.

Fishing Permits On Increase Here

Up to June 30 of 1943, the county treasurer's records show, 782 permits had been issued for fishing in Adams county. This year 871 licenses had been issued up to June 30. The number of licenses includes a number of permits given to soldiers living in the state.

MISTAKE YOUTH FOR FISH CRANE; FATALY SHOT

While arrangements were being completed Thursday for funeral services Saturday morning for William George McCauslin, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McCauslin, Aspers, who was fatally wounded by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun Wednesday, Private Harold K. Trout of the state police, swore out a warrant for the arrest of Charles H. Rothenhoeffer, 75, neighbor of the McCauslins.

Rothenhoeffer, who is to be arrested this afternoon, is charged under the state game laws with having killed a human being in mistake for a wild animal. The information was signed before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore by Private Trout after a conference with District Attorney J. Francis Yake.

The elderly man, who was so wrought up by the tragedy that he was not to be told until today of the boy's death, told Private Trout Wednesday afternoon he shot at a patch of blue he spied through bushes. He thought the blue was a fish crane's plumage but it proved to be Billy McCauslin's blue shirt.

Rothenhoeffer told the officer that he had been working in his garden when he noticed the blue spot through a small opening in the bushes along the garden fence. He went to the house for the shot gun in the belief that he had seen a fish crane which frequented the small stream and fish pond near the Rothenhoeffer property.

As he returned to the garden, he crouched over to avoid being seen by the "crane." When he reached about the middle of the garden he fired one shot from a kneeling position, he told police. The boy screamed, stumbled a few feet toward the buildings and fell unconscious. Mr. and Mrs. Rothenhoeffer ran to his side and Dr. E. C. Jones was called.

Grandson Present
"Eddie" Rothenhoeffer, 16-year-old grandson of the elderly defendant, said he was sitting on a board along the edge of the stream with Billy McCauslin. A tree cut off his white shirt from the view of his grandfather in the garden, he said.

The penalty provided by the Game Law for the offense with which Mr. Rothenhoeffer is charged is that the defendant, if convicted, shall pay to a representative of the deceased not less than $500 nor more than $1,000 and shall undergo imprisonment in the county jail for not less than two years nor more than five years.

The offense is listed as a misdemeanor and therefore cannot be settled in a justice's office but must be taken to court for final disposition. Mr. Rothenhoeffer was expected to be released in bail soon after his arrest this afternoon.

So far as could be learned today this case is the first in this county in which this charge has been brought under the provisions of the Act of June 3, 1937.

The victim of the shooting was a native of Bendersville and besides his parents and one-year-old brother, Lynn, is survived by his paternal grandmother, Mrs. George McCauslin, Bendersville, and the maternal grandfather, William E. Brough, Aspers.

The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Rousong-Dugan funeral home in Bendersville with further services in the Methodist church there of which Billy was a member. His pastor, the Rev. George W. Harrison, will officiate. Interment in the Bendersville cemetery.

Friends may call Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the funeral home.

$550 Damage In Car-Truck Crash

Damage estimated at about $550 resulted when a car and a truck sideswiped Saturday morning about 3:30 o'clock, two and a half miles west of Hanover on the Gettysburg road. Pvt. Harold Sheads of the Gettysburg subsection of the state police investigated.

The officer reported that an east-bound car operated by Pius T. Moore, Hanover R. 4, and a west-bound truck driven by Clyde B. McCormick, Big Pool, Md., collided near the center of the highway. The impact knocked the rear wheels out from under the truck which struck a guardrail.

No one was injured and no charges were brought. Damage totaled about $550, the officer estimated to soldiers living in the state.

Wounded Soldier In U. S. Hospital

Sergeant Roy K. Mickley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mickley, Orrtanna, R. I., torpedoed twice off Casablanca in November, 1942, and seriously wounded in the invasion of France, has arrived in this country for medical treatment.

Sergeant Mickley telephoned his parents from New York on Saturday advising them that he had just arrived from England by plane and that he was being sent to the Valley Forge Memorial hospital where he will undergo an operation on his leg.

The Orrtanna soldier suffered shrapnel wounds in the shoulder, leg and right thumb during the invasion of France. He was removed to a hospital in England and later returned to the states by airplane.

In his telephone conversation on Saturday from New York he told his parents that he was "feeling fine" but gave no details of his wounding, the nature of his injuries or other information.

He was torpedoed out of two ships during the invasion of Casablanca within a 22-hour period. The second rescue ship took him to the states.

Mickley has crossed the Atlantic five times.

SET DATES FOR USO WAR FUND DRIVE IN COUNTY

October 15 to November 1 was set as the time for the annual USO War Fund campaign in Adams county, at the July meeting of the USO board of directors of the county, Monday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg.

At the same session the board confirmed the selection of Paul A. Kinsey as campaign chairman. Mr. Kinsey managed the campaign for the USO fund in this county in 1943.

The county quota for the coming drive, accepted by the county board at its June session, is $28,959.58. The 15-county area including this county is being asked to raise $1,097,000.

Chairman Kinsey already has indicated that the emphasis in the coming canvass is to be put upon complete coverage of the county. He is engaged now in selecting district and community chairmen who direct the canvass in every section of the county.

May Open Headquarters
Staffs of solicitors will be contacted later and will be given supplies and instructions to ring every doorbell in every town in the county and to contact as many of the rural homes as is possible.

The board indicated at its meeting Monday that arrangements will be made to open campaign headquarters in Gettysburg to facilitate the distribution of supplies to the canvassers. The campaign headquarters may be set up at the USO canteen on Chambersburg street, it was indicated, although there has not been a final decision on this matter.

Dean W. E. Tilberg, president of the county USO organization, presided at Monday's meeting when Mrs. Frederic E. Griest presented a report for the canteen committee, and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh for the dance committee. The Rev. Kenneth D. James, new member of the board from Littlestown, attended the session.

The group decided to omit the August meeting and to meet next in September.

URGES WOMEN TO CONTINUE SELLING BONDS

Mrs. Henry T. Bream, chairman of the Women's Division of the county War Finance Committee, today made an urgent appeal to all women volunteer bond workers to extend their efforts in the sale of "E" bonds during the remainder of the month.

"We have been urged by the state committee to conduct an intensive drive, during the remainder of the Fifth War Bond campaign which closes July 31, for the sale of E bonds in order to attain our quota."

"Although the state has reached its over-all quota it is far behind in E bond sales. This is one phase of the campaign that the Treasury department has stressed and it is important that we lend our efforts in the drive."

"Adams county is also far behind in its E bond sales and unless we carry on an intensive drive through the rest of the month we will fail to reach our goal," Mrs. Bream said.

Mrs. Bream also reminded the women workers that a war bond is to be given to the woman who sells the most bonds during the drive. Some women, she said, have sold more than 100 bonds. The winner will not be determined until after the close of the campaign.

Additional bond sales through the Women's Division Friday totaled $19,893.75.

This included: $7,018.75 from New Oxford; $5,300 from Biglerville; $2,550 from Cashtown; $1,675 from Arendtsville; $1,650 each from Littlestown and Gettysburg and $50 from Fairfield.

NO VIOLATORS OF OPA HERE

In the recent survey on meats conducted by Price Panels of War Price and Rationing Boards throughout this ten-county area, 50 per cent of the stores were found in violation of posting, grading, and price ceiling regulations, it was announced Tuesday by the Harrisburg District Office of Price Administration.

A total of 837 stores were checked, 422 of which were found in full compliance, according to the OPA. Grading violations aggregated 280. In 82 instances, beef was not graded at all, and in 198 others, the grade was not marked on cuts. A total of 200 posting violations were also found.

Boards which reported no violations in any of their stores were Chambersburg, Gettysburg, Lewisport, Myerstown, and New Oxford.

The Regional Office of Price Administration has recommended that compliance conferences be held throughout the District during the latter part of July. It is anticipated that a great many violations will be eliminated through discussion and clarification of the requirements of the meat regulations, which is the primary purpose of the proposed conference.

RETAILERS ARE ASKED TO BOOM "E" BOND SALES

The State War Finance committee has appealed to the Gettysburg Retail committee of the county War Finance committee to extend their efforts to sell the allotted quota of "E" bonds during the Fifth War Bond drive which closes at midnight July 31.

The telegram from George P. Gable, state chairman of the Retail division, to Mares Sherman, chairman of the local retail committee, follows:

"Pennsylvania is lagging behind in E bond sales. All War Finance Divisions are making a special effort July 25 and 26 to improve E bond sales."

"It is suggested that you confer with your retailers and your newspapers to use week-end advertisements and put on a special drive on the above date. A one hundred dollar quota per person is suggested. These two days are called mop up days and it is most important that we get large additional sales of E bonds those days."

Local Appeal
Mr. Sherman Wednesday issued an appeal to all retailers and their employees to join in the drive to sell the quota of E bonds assigned Adams county.

"I know that all of our retailers and their employees are one hundred per cent Americans and are backing the war effort to the fullest. I am appealing to them again to exert their every effort to join the rest of the state in this all-out drive to reach our E bond quota."

"If each individual set a goal of one E bond during the remainder of the campaign I believe we can reach our quota."

Edmund W. Thomas, county chairman, added an appeal to all volunteer workers to increase the tempo in E bond sales during the remainder of the campaign.

CYCLIST DIES OF INJURIES IN CAR COLLISION

Donald Lester Boland, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boland, Emmitsburg, died at 9:55 o'clock Thursday evening in the Warner hospital of injuries he suffered Sunday evening when he collided with an automobile while riding a bicycle toward Gettysburg a short distance north of Emmitsburg on the main highway.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, signed a certificate attributing death to a fracture of the skull suffered in the accident. His other injuries include multiple fractures of the jaw and face bones, and lacerations of the right arm, forehead and face.

After the accident reports from Emmitsburg stated that Donald had been riding in the direction of Gettysburg when he swerved to the left to pass a car as another machine passed, traveling the opposite direction. The bicycle struck the south-bound car and knocked Boland to the highway. A door handle was knocked off the auto by the force of the impact.

The driver of the car, who was said to be from Graceham, Maryland, took the youth to the office of Dr. W. R. Cadle, Emmitsburg. From there he was brought to the hospital here. His condition became steadily more serious.

The youth was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic church at Emmitsburg and had been residing with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Winebrenner, Fairfield R. 2, north of Emmitsburg along the Gettysburg highway. LOCAL SEAMAN PREPARES FOR INVASION DUTY

S 1-c William H. Small, Gettysburg, is nearing completion of his course which is preparing him for service with the amphibious forces abroad an LST, Landing Ship Tank, one of the largest of the Navy's invasion fleet.

Seaman Small has been assigned to the crew of an LST at the Amphibious Training Base, Camp Bradford, Va., where he is going through the strenuous training required of bluejackets who man the beach-hitting tank carriers.

Heavier than a modern destroyer, the 300-foot LST lands assault troops and equipment directly onto enemy beachheads, under the protective bombardment of heavy warships and Navy planes.

Seek 80,000 Ships
Despite its size and weight, the landing vessel is designed to navigate shallow approaches to hostile beaches, spilling its troops and tanks ashore through huge bow doors.

Camp Bradford, where Seaman Small is stationed, is one of a group of bases operated by the Amphibious Training Command of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet along the eastern seaboard. The Bradford base is readying thousands of Navy men to operate the ships of the amphibious fleet, fast growing toward its year-end goal of 80,000 new landing craft.

Seaman Small is a son of Walter Small, Gettysburg, formerly of Edgemoor. Mrs. Small resides with her parents in Gettysburg.

PITCHES HAY ON 88TH BIRTHDAY

Crist Shank, Biglerville R. 1, spent his eighty-eighth birthday anniversary Monday, as he has spent many other birthdays—pitching hay.

He worked along with other harvest hands Monday on the farm of A. H. Friedline, Biglerville R. D., near Benders church, just as he did on Saturday and as he expects to continue doing.

Mr. Shank, who has engaged in farming and truck gardening all of his life, resides between Biglerville and Arendtsville and frequently walks two miles to Biglerville to shop or transact other business. For many years he attended Farmers Market here.

He was born and reared in Adams county and is a lifelong member of the Mummasburg Mennonite church.

On Saturday after Mr. Shank had spent the day pitching hay in the fields and working in the mow while the wagons were unloaded, he was guest of honor at a birthday dinner at the Friedline home. His wife was there as were his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shank, and their son, Nelson, Jr., and the members of the Friedline family.

MISTAKE YOUTH FOR FISH CRANE; FATALLY SHOT

While arrangements were being completed Thursday for funeral services Saturday morning for William George McCauslin, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McCauslin, Aspers, who was fatally wounded by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun Wednesday, Private Harold K. Trout of the state police, swore out a warrant for the arrest of Charles H. Rothenhoeffer, 75, neighbor of the McCauslins.

Rothenhoeffer, who is to be arrested this afternoon, is charged under the state game laws with having killed a human being in mistake for a wild animal. The information was signed before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore by Private Trout after a conference with District Attorney J. Francis Yake.

The elderly man, who was so wrought up by the tragedy that he was not to be told until today of the boy's death, told Private Trout Wednesday afternoon he shot at a patch of blue he spied through bushes. He thought the blue was a fish crane's plumage but it proved to be Billy McCauslin's blue shirt.

Rothenhoeffer told the officer that he had been working in his garden when he noticed the blue spot through a small opening in the bushes along the garden fence. He went to the house for the shot gun in the belief that he had seen a fish crane which frequented the small stream and fish pond near the Rothenhoeffer property.

As he returned to the garden, he crouched over to avoid being seen by the "crane." When he reached about the middle of the garden he fired one shot from a kneeling position, he told police. The boy screamed, stumbled a few feet toward the buildings and fell unconscious. Mr. and Mrs. Rothenhoeffer ran to his side and Dr. B. C. Jones was called.

Grandson Present
"Eddie" Rothenhoeffer, 16-year-old grandson of the elderly defendant, said he was sitting on a board along the edge of the stream with Billy McCauslin. A tree cut off his white shirt from the view of his grandfather in the garden, he said.

Private Trout said he believes that if Mr. Rothenhoeffer had crossed the garden erect, instead of crouching, he would have been able to see the boy's head above the brush and would have discovered his mistake.

The penalty provided by the Game Law for the offense with which Mr. Rothenhoeffer is charged is that the defendant, if convicted, shall pay to a representative of the deceased not less than $500 nor more than $1,000 and shall undergo imprisonment in the county jail for not less than two years nor more than five years.

The offense is listed as a misdemeanor and therefore cannot be settled in a justice's office but must be taken to court for final disposition. Mr. Rothenhoeffer was expected to be released in bail soon after his arrest this afternoon.

So far as could be learned today, this case is the first in this county in which this charge has been brought under the provisions of the Act of June 3, 1937.

The victim of the shooting was a native of Bendersville and besides his parents and one-year-old brother, Lynn, is survived by his paternal grandmother, Mrs. George McCauslin, Bendersville, and the maternal grandfather, William E. Brough, Aspers.

The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Routsong-Dugan funeral home in Bendersville with further services in the Methodist church there of which Billy was a member. His pastor, the Rev. George W. Harrison, will officiate. Interment in the Bendersville cemetery.

Friends may call Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the funeral home.

Damage estimated at about $550 resulted when a car and a truck sideswiped Saturday morning about 3:30 o'clock, two and a half miles west of Hanover on the Gettysburg road. Pvt. Harold Sheads of the Gettysburg substitution of the state police investigated.

No one was injured and no charges were brought. Damage totaled about $550, the officer estimated.

T. R. IS BURIED IN NORMANDY

U. S. Fourth Division Cemetery in France (AP)—Machine guns rattled in the distance and anti-aircraft fire burst in faraway clouds as military funeral services were held in the Normandy twilight July 14 for Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

The general's son, Quentin, watched as his father's body was lowered in the French soil on which he had fought in two wars against German aggression. Quentin is a captain in the "Fighting First" division, which was his father's favorite.

Others included high-ranking officers of the first division and the fourth division, of which Roosevelt was assistant commander when he died of a heart attack Wednesday.

RUSSELL BAKER HERE AFTER TOUR OF PACIFIC DUTY

Sergeant Major Russell O. Baker, Upper Darby, who was instructor at the Bremen's school held in Adams county during the winter of 1939 and spring of 1940, visited friends in Gettysburg after 25 months service in the South Pacific in which he took part in four major engagements.

Sergeant Baker, who has been in the reserves and on duty with the Marines for the last 18 years wears the presidential citation given his outfit for the invasion of Guadalcanal, and has three other battle clasps on his South West Pacific battle zone ribbon, for the defense and occupation of Guadalcanal, New Guinea, and Cape Gloucester, New Britain, where he landed on Christmas Day.

Slightly Wounded
His only battle wounds were scratches on the legs by bomb fragments. Thrown to the ground by the concussion from a bomb exploding nearby, he failed to notice that he had been slightly injured until after the battle, in which he was taking part, was over. First aid treatment was enough to take care of the scratches.

The rain, which included a 45-day stretch on New Guinea when it rained every day, was an annoyance, as were the bugs and pests that abound in the tropical South Pacific. The only interment for the troops were movies, other than the usual baseball and other games in which the men took part. But the recreation was not needed, except when the troops were out of the battle zone. While fighting, the sergeant major says, there is no time to think about possible entertainment.

Praises Marines
The valor of the Marines and the excellent work of the U. S. Navy was praised by Sergeant Baker in an interview today with a reporter for The Gettysburg Times.

The basic training given the Marines proved its value in battles, Sergeant Baker said. "Based on developing individual initiative as well as hardening the men and giving them military training, the lessons learned by the Marines in their basic training frequently saved their lives on the battle front," he said.

The sergeant spent several days with James B. and James A. Aumen at their home on West Middle street. He left for Philadelphia Sunday afternoon.

Rolling procedures in burial payments, restoration and reimbursement were also reported on by Mrs. Myers.

In her report of the case load being carried at present, Mrs. Myers revealed there are now 654 cases being carried.

Public case loads include: Old age—33 persons for burial; 75; aid to dependent children, 82; and general assistance, 64.

TORPEDOED OFF TWO SHIPS, ROY MICKLEY AGAIN BATTLE VICTIM

Sergeant Roy K. Mickley, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mickley, Orrtanna R. 1, twice torpedoed out of ships off Casablanca in November, 1942, has been wounded in the invasion of France, it was learned last Friday.

SGT. R. K. MICKLEY

right thumb and is now in a hospital somewhere in England.

Details of his wounding were not revealed to the parents although they received a letter from him telling them that he was in a hospital after being wounded in Normandy.

In his letter Sergeant Mickley asked for some candy and a fountain pen. He said that he was having difficulty writing because of his thumb injury. He said he was able to be about on crutches.

Twice Torpedoed
Sergeant Mickley took part in the invasion of Casablanca.

He was in the hold of an ammunition ship, directing the unloading of the explosives, 12 miles off the African coast. Suddenly he was hurled from atop boxes of ammunition and found himself under water. When he rose he saw a gaping hole in the side of the ship with water rushing in. He made his way to the top-side and jumped overboard. He was picked up a short time later and transferred to another ship.

Twenty-two hours later, while eating mess, another torpedo struck Mickley's ship, the second one he was aboard, and again he had to abandon ship. Again he was rescued and taken aboard a destroyer. After being checked by a physician and given food he was put to bed. When he awoke he was enroute to the States. He was given a brief furlough and later rejoined his outfit in Africa.

It was not known that he participated in the invasion of France until his family learned that he had been wounded.

Local Sergeant Uses Tin Can As Bathtub At Battlefront

Fifteenth Army Air Force, Some where in Italy (By Mail)—"Ohhh what a beauty—full mor—ping!" It wasn't a Frank Sinatra recording, just S-Sgt. Ray E. Golden, a ball turret gunner on a B-24, singing as he took a "bath" at his base in Italy. It was a rather small "bath-tub," in fact too small for even his two sons back home, Richard, 2, and Ray, Jr., 9 months. Ray says: "I used to use my steel helmet and it was still smaller so I got this empty can and fixed it up and it serves the purpose. It's really very simple. If I want hot water... I build a fire and heat some. Most of the time I use cold water 'cause we don't have any wood to build a fire."

Ray, 23, husband of Mrs. Helen May Golden, 344 Baltimore street, Gettysburg, formerly was employed as a moulder for the Gettysburg Furniture company. He has 20 combat missions to his credit since landing in Italy several months ago and is a holder of the Air Medal.

Golden continued: "I'm supposed to go to a camp pretty soon for a rest but I'm looking forward to getting my 50 missions in and going home where a guy can take a decent bath with—only his kids to bother him and boy, how I love to be bothered that way!"

SCOUTS HELP WITH HARVEST OF MANY CROPS

Ninety per cent of the members of the Boy Scout troops of Gettysburg and all of the scouts in the Biglerville, Arendtsville and Cashown areas are working in the cherry orchards or doing other farm work, Dr. Frederick Tilberg, president of the Black Walnut scouting district, announced July 15.

The total number of scouts at work is 150 with the ages of the members ranging from 12 to 15 years of age. Twenty-seven scouts from York are also engaged in work in the Adams county orchards with that number being included among the high school fruit picking group stationed in the Biglerville high school building.

Cashown's troop, despite the fact that all members are working on the farms and orchards, led the district in securing of war bond pledges during the Fifth War Loan drive, Doctor Tilberg reported. The troop secured pledges for 114 bonds, with a face value of $4,875. During the Fourth War Loan drive the Cashown troop also led the district, securing 145 pledges with a value of $7,425.

Among the scout troops participating in the war loan drive was the Girl Scout troop of St. James Lutheran church. The Fifth War Loan drive marked the first time the Girl Scouts have participated in the "Scouts as Cleaners campaign" during war bond drives, it was stated.

URGE COUNTIANS TO PURCHASE 'E' BONDS IN DRIVE

Mr. and Mrs. Adams County were asked Monday by the county War Finance committee to dig a little deeper into their pockets so that the county may reach its quota of "E" bond sales before the end of this month.

Meeting Saturday afternoon at the First National bank building, chairman of the various county committees paid high tribute to the corporations and business interests of the county and those with representatives in the county whose purchases put the county over the top in the Fifth War Loan drive.

At the same time the chairman viewed with some alarm the failure of the county to meet its "E" bond quota. Individuals, who are scheduled to buy $650,000 worth of "E" bonds according to the quota set for the county, are approximately $300,000 behind in their purchases so far and every effort is being made to reach the goal by the end of the current month.

"E" Bonds Importance
The "E" bond campaign is possibly the most important part of the current War Bond campaign, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman, pointed out. While the purchases of bonds by the corporations and business places supplied the immediate need of the nation for money with which to buy the necessities for the men and women in the armed forces, the long-range nature of the war bond campaign will be a failure if the individuals fail to "come through with their share of the quota, it was pointed out.

The "E" bond quota directly appeals to the individuals to back up their men and women, their sons and daughters in the armed forces, members of the committee asserted. Not only will the money turned in purchase materials of war for those in the armed forces, but the "E" bonds will do much to stabilize the economy of the country for the men and women when they return from the fighting fronts.

Backlog For Future
During the present time the purchase of individual "E" bonds will help prevent inflation from causing great difficulties for the wives and children and parents of men in the armed forces who are supporting their families through allotments. The ever present dangers of inflation, if they get out of hand would cause untold suffering to the wives and families of service men, it was pointed out.

At the same time the individual savings represented by "E" bond purchases will be a backlog to tide the nation over the trying reconstruction period after the war thus again aiding the men in the armed forces as they return, it was said.

Committees Praised
"Many people in the county cannot understand why, since we are over the top in the Fifth War Loan drive, there is any need for purchase of additional bonds by individuals," Edmund W. Thomas, county war finance committee chairman said at the meeting. "The answer should be obvious. While we have met the overall quota, we are still $300,000 behind the quota assigned for "E" bonds. In addition to the great need for the sale of "E" bonds it should be a matter of pride to the county that it go over the top in all of the quotas assigned."

Attending the meeting, in addition to Mr. Thomas, were Paul Thomas, chairman of the payroll savings committee; Mrs. Frank Kramer, representing Mrs. Henry T. Bream, chairman of the Women's division; Mrs. Murray B. Praze, Jr., of the special events committee, and Lloyd W. Kuhn, chairman of the bank and finance committee.

Members of all committees were praised by the chairman for their "magnificent" work during the Fifth War Loan drive. Every chairman reported the members of his county committee and of all local committees under his jurisdiction, "put forth the most intense efforts and were unselfish in their giving of time, money and effort to insure success of the drive."

T. R. IS BURIED IN NORMANDY

U. S. Fourth Division Cemetery in France (AP)—Machine guns rattled in the distance and anti-aircraft fire burst in faraway clouds as military funeral services were held in the Normandy twilight July 14 for Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

The general's son, Quentin, watched as his father's body was lowered in the French soil on which he had fought in two wars against German aggression. Quentin is a captain in the "Fighting First" division, which was his father's favorite.

Beside the grave were six generals, including Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, in command of all U. S. troops in France.

Others included high-ranking officers of the first division and the fourth division, of which Roosevelt was assistant commander when he died of a heart attack Wednesday.

Taps Are Sounded

The division band headed the procession down the long aisle between rows of white painted wooden crosses. Behind it came the firing squad and color guard bearing the American and Fourth division flags.

Col. Peter C. Schroeder, First Army chaplain and former pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, Flushing, N. Y., and Lt. Col. James A. Bryant, Crystal Springs, Miss., Fourth division chaplain, preceded the flag-covered coffin, carried on an armored truck.

Eight riflemen fired three volleys over the grave. After taps were sounded, scores of patriotic French resistance leaders and their families tossed fresh white and red roses into the open grave.

RUSSELL BAKER HERE AFTER TOUR OF PACIFIC DUTY

Sergeant Major Russell O. Baker, Upper Darby, who was instructor at the firemen's school held in Adams county during the winter of 1939 and spring of 1940, visited friends in Gettysburg after 25 months service in the South Pacific in which he took part in four major engagements.

Sergeant Baker, who has been in the reserves and on duty with the Marines for the last 18 years wears the presidential citation given his outfit for the invasion of Guadalcanal, and has three other battle clasps on his South West Pacific battle zone ribbon, for the defense and occupation of Guadalcanal, New Guinea, and Cape Gloucester, New Britain, where he landed on Christmas Day.

Slightly Wounded

His only battle wounds were scratches on the legs by bomb fragments. Thrown to the ground by the concussion from a bomb exploding nearby, he failed to notice that he had been slightly injured until after the battle, in which he was taking part, was over. First aid treatment was enough to take care of the scratches.

The rain, which included a 45-day stretch on New Guinea when it rained every day, was an annoyance, as were the bugs and pests that abound in the tropical South Pacific. The only entertainment for the troops were movies, other than the usual baseball and other games in which the men took part. But the recreation was not needed, except when the troops were out of the battle zone. While fighting, the sergeant major says, there is no time to think about possible entertainment.

Praises Marines

The valor of the Marines and the excellent work of the U. S. Navy was praised by Sergeant Baker in an interview today with a reporter for The Gettysburg Times.

The basic training given the Marines proved its value in battles, Sergeant Baker said. "Based on developing individual initiative as well as hardening the men and giving them military training, the lessons learned by the Marines in their basic training frequently saved their lives on the battle front," he said.

The sergeant spent several days with James B. and James A. Aumen at their home on West Middle street. He left for Philadelphia Sunday afternoon.

Report Fewer Relief Cases In County

The regular monthly business meeting of the Adams County Public Assistance board was held Tuesday morning in the offices on North Washington street, Gettysburg.

J. H. Beard, new member of the board, attended his first meeting. Other board members present were M. Stuart Danner, East Berlin, chairman; Harold Reuning and Mrs. R. S. Saby, Gettysburg. Mrs. Donald Myers, director, also attended.

Mrs. Myers reported on the new increase for fuel, shelter and household supplies granted as aid to dependent children. In discussing the increases Mrs. Myers revealed they were slight and do not cover every case but rather those of the average family.

Routine procedures in burial payments, restitution and reimbursement were also reported on by Mrs. Myers.

In her report of the case load being carried at present, Mrs. Myers revealed there are now 654, 34 less than a year ago.

Present case loads include:

Old age, 433; pensions for blind, 75; aid to dependent children, 82; and general assistance, 64.

TORPEDOED OFF TWO SHIPS, ROY MICKLEY AGAIN BATTLE VICTIM

Sergeant Roy K. Mickley, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mickley, Orrtanna R. 1, twice torpedoed out of ships off Casablanca in November, 1942, has been wounded in the invasion of France, it was learned last Friday.

Sergeant Mickley suffered shrapnel wounds in the shoulder, leg and

SGT. R. K. MICKLEY

right thumb and is now in a hospital somewhere in England.

Details of his wounding were not revealed to the parents although they received a letter from him telling them that he was in a hospital after being wounded in Normandy.

In his letter Sergeant Mickley asked for some candy and a fountain pen. He said that he was having difficulty writing because of his thumb injury. He said he was able to be about on crutches.

Twice Torpedoed

Sergeant Mickley took part in the invasion of Casablanca.

He was in the hold of an ammunition ship, directing the unloading of the explosives, 12 miles off the African coast. Suddenly he was hurled from atop boxes of ammunition and found himself under water. When he rose he saw a gaping hole in the side of the ship with water rushing in. He made his way to the top-side and jumped overboard. He was picked up a short time later and transferred to another ship.

Twenty-two hours later, while eating mess, another torpedo struck Mickley's ship, the second one he was aboard, and again he had to abandon ship. Again he was rescued and taken aboard a destroyer. After being checked by a physician and given food he was put to bed. When he awoke he was enroute to the States. He was given a brief furlough and later rejoined his outfit in Africa.

It was not known that he participated in the invasion of France until his family learned that he had been wounded.

SCOUTS HELP WITH HARVEST OF MANY CROPS

Ninety per cent of the members of the Boy Scout troops of Gettysburg and all of the scouts in the Biglerville, Arendtsville and Cashtown areas are working in the cherry orchards or doing other farm work. Dr. Frederick Tilberg, president of the Black Walnut scouting district, announced July 15.

The total number of scouts at work is 150 with the ages of the members ranging from 12 to 15 years of age. Twenty-seven scouts from York are also engaged in work in the Adams county orchards with that number being included among the high school fruit picking group stationed in the Biglerville high school building.

Cashtown's troop, despite the fact that all members are working on the farms and orchards, led the district in securing of war bond pledges during the Fifth War Loan drive. Doctor Tilberg reported. The troop secured pledges for 114 bonds, with a face value of $4,875. During the Fourth War Loan drive the Cashtown troop also led the district, securing 145 pledges with a value of $7,425.

CHANGE RULES FOR NAMES ON "HONOR ROLL"

The county Honor Roll committee, at a session Tuesday evening, voted to change its rules on the eligibility of names for the honor roll to include any men and women in the armed forces of the county who are accepted by the county board of elections as eligible for a military ballot from this county.

The chief effect of this change will be to accept the six months residence rule required for voting instead of the two years' residence before induction which the committee formerly enforced. The change also will allow names of some service men and women to be placed on the county Honor Roll because of the fact that they maintain voting residence in the county.

Seek Other Names

The committee called upon parents of 17-year-olds voluntarily entering the service to notify the Honor Roll committee so that the youths' names may be placed on the Honor Roll. It was pointed out by the committee that the families are the only possible source of such information. Such names would not be included in the GI ballot list because the men are under voting age and because the draft boards have no record of their induction.

A. Harrison Barr, a member of the committee, reported that 77 new names and one replacement will be placed on the board in the near future bringing the total number of name plates to more than 3,400. Space remains for about 400 additional names, he stated.

The committee left unchanged their rules barring members of the Merchant Marine, Red Cross and other civilian service from the Honor Roll on the grounds that the list must be limited strictly to those in the armed forces.

"The committee recognizes the tremendous aid to the war effort given by the men of the Merchant Marine, the Red Cross workers, civilians working in war plants and who are giving full support to the winning of the war in many other ways—outside the armed forces. It is, of course, impossible for us to include on the Honor Roll all countians however important their war services may be, unless they are in the armed forces," a committee spokesman said.

Name New Member

The appointment of Dr. J. Walter Coleman as new representative to the committee from the Rotary club was announced.

Dr. R. D. Wickerham, chairman, presided at the meeting of the committee, and was authorized to proceed with the placing of routine names on the Honor Roll. The committee is to be consulted on "borderline" cases and those in which additional information is needed.

Mrs. Henrietta Blocher, treasurer, reported there is more than $150 remaining in the treasury and that some contributions continue to be received.

Other committee members present included James Shenk, C. Arthur Brame, Mr. Barr and G. Henry Roth.

HERE AND THERE

Women of Adams County can "mine" tin in their own kitchens sufficient for 133 flying Fortresses this year.

This figure was announced by J. A. Stewart, vice-president of the American Can company, on the basis of canned foods consumed by civilians in the county last year. On the basis of last year's consumption, civilians will open 3,194,232 cans of food this year. Mr. Stewart said. According to a table recently issued by the government 24,000 tin cans provide tin sufficient for one flying Fortress.

The government has issued another urgent appeal for waste paper.

This is an all-important salvage material... and everyone can help in this effort. Don't throw away or burn paper. Save every scrap. Try to save at least one bundle a week. The armed forces need mountains of waste paper.

Business firms, manufacturers and other industries are urged to dig out their old files... letters not directly contractual, old correspondence, old records, old bookkeeping books, old general ledgers, cash books, cancelled checks, invoices, paid bills and other old paper that has no direct usefulness... all of this paper can be used to protect ammunition, foods, medicines, life-saving blood plasma, etc.

Salvage every piece of waste paper you can. Every bit helps.

Pennsylvania early 1944-crop potatoes, mostly of the 'Cobbler' variety, were placed under oiling by OPA today. Margins for various channels of distribution are similar to those now in effect, and the only change is in the base price at the source of production. The f.o.b. shipping point price for a 100-pound bag of U. S. No. 1 potatoes is $2.80. This reflects a retail ceiling of 25 cents for a 5-pound unit of sale, effective July 22.

Private Robert Bixler, son of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Blaine E. Bixler, of Littlestown, writes the following from France:

"Some time ago I wrote you a letter from England. Now I'm writing a few lines from sunny France. As you know the Allies have been here nearly a month now and other things besides the fighting and military needs are beginning to get organized. We've been getting cigarettes and candy and other luxuries for some time now. Of course we're eating C and K rations which are surprisingly good."

"Now, I'll give you a little information about France itself. The country is pretty well beat up from the fighting but the people nevertheless seem happy and give the Yanks a hearty welcome. A lot of the houses and towns are nearly destroyed by shells and bombs but they survive, despite all the hardships. I want you to know I really enjoyed your paper while I received it in the states and will try to make arrangements to have it sent to me here in France."

An assortment of German loot from the battlefields of Normandy was shipped home Tuesday by Lieut. Clarence W. Epley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Epley, Chambersburg street.

Included in the package of war souvenirs are a German helmet, broken watch, four German books, 2 packages of high-priced cigarettes, three personal letters, a regimental communique, an empty plastic bottle of anti skin poisoning, a piece of silk camouflage cloth, two lens for a gas mask and some stationery.

The name on the gas mask is Otto Grumm and the name on the letters is Walter Rortger. The name of Lt. Rahweder also appears on some of the loot.

The regimental communique tells the German soldiers how to file reports on the enemy from advance observation posts or patrol stations. It states that they must be clear, brief and exhaustive... better ten times too much than one time too little.

The owner of some of the property was formerly a member of a Grenadier regiment Two car pennants are from the Death Head regiment.

One of the books is the German Infantry regulations, carried by all Boche troops. Another is a short story on music by Johanna Kinsel, titled "Jens Merten." The book was a special edition printed in Paris. There was also an adventure story, "Robots of the Frontier," by Fritz Sender.

A communique from the Supreme High Command, printed on both sides of a 9 by 12 inch sheet of paper, is the High Command's answer to leaflets dropped over German lines by the Russians.

The communique attempts to describe the source of the Russian leaflets, as former Communist members of the German Reichstag. Each point of the Red message is cited and then answered by the High Command.

The text reveals that the Germans, by their own admission, had been training the nation for many years to combat Red propaganda.

The personal letters are not unusually revealing. One statement, however, confirms the report that German girls are in service, the writer stating that she had received a new hat and a pair of gloves from a girl who soon expected a furlough.

The writer of one of the letters, Erna Koopman, of Wedel, near Hamburg, tells her sweetheart that she had been injured in a sports contest and that it would be some time before she is well. She asks her soldier friend when the ban on furloughs for troops would end and she also asks that he send her sister a jacket... "bring it yourself because sending it is too dangerous." She further wonders "when it will all be over and what it will all come to." She also inquired about a meat box. She also told the soldier that she would send him a box of potatoes.

There was no further message about the war.

In one of the letters it was revealed that it was written by a Dutch girl who said she was anxious for the war to end so that she could go to Germany to meet her soldier-friend's parents and see various things in Germany.

One writer sent Pentecost greetings and also told of observing Mothers' Day at home.

War workers are accused of being the "most wasteful of transportation" and black markets in gasoline are blamed on "a surplus of gasoline in the retail outlets" in a report prepared by the American Automobile Association.

The report was prepared by Elmer Jenkins, National Travel Director of the AAA, following the AAA sponsored "Car Conservation and Synthetic Tire Demonstration Tour" which passed through Gettysburg several weeks ago on the last lap of the 18,000 mile journey.

Highlights of the AAA survey report follow:

"Synthetic Tires and Recapped Tires... Capable of excellent performance... more than 20,000 miles, provided they are given proper care. Excellent service secured from repairs containing Grade C comeback on pre-war carcases. Government is strongly advised not to manufacture any more Grade F comeback for passenger car tires; also to undertake immediately an intensive campaign of education to give the service stations the information and the technique necessary to enable them to handle and repair synthetic tires and tubes."

"Public Attitude Toward Conservation... Motorists are not conservation-minded. Mileage rationing, even at this late hour, is accepted 'not enough out of conviction but too much because it is imposed from above.' Lack of response due, in the main, to number of agencies dealing with passenger car problem, lack of clear-cut policy, conflict in statements, and absence of co-ordination. We are asking Government to make a clear-cut public pronouncement as to whether or not it is to be the policy to restrict gasoline and tires just to conserve automobiles, irrespective of whether or not more gasoline and tires could be released to the civilian population. Manifestly the future of mileage rationing hinges on the policy determination on this fundamental issue. So we urge:

"That if, irrespective of the supply of gasoline and tires available at any given time in the period ahead, it is to be the policy of the Office of Defense Transportation to restrict the allocation of these supplies in order to conserve automobiles, automobile parts and manpower until new automobiles are available, this policy should be publicly proclaimed together with an adequate presentation of supporting data."

"Federal Wartime Speed Limit... Wholly disregarded by all classes of vehicles and virtually all classes of users... complete failure as an instrument of conservation. Government should consider whether a more liberal limit, properly enforced, would secure a greater degree of acceptance. However, if there is any change in wartime speed limit, there should be no speed differential as between commercial vehicles and passenger cars."

"War Workers Most Wasteful of Transportation... Generally speaking the war workers, who enjoy the highest priority in securing automobiles, tires and gasoline, are wholly indifferent to conservation in any manner, shape or form. Situation in many areas is so critical that even the police hesitate to patrol roads for fear of being run down, while many stretches of highway leading to and from

SWEDE DASHES WORLD RECORD MILE, 4:01.6

Stockholm, Sweden. (AP) — Arne Anderson, the flying Swedish school teacher, ran a world record mile of 4:01.6 Tuesday, an indication that the much-discussed, but elusive four-minute mile is just around the corner.

In clipping a full second off the world standard of 4:02.6 that he set a year ago July 1, Anderson beat his more famous countryman, Gunnar Haegg, by two meters. Haegg was timed in 4:02, his fastest speed for the distance.

Anderson's 4:01.6 mile was the latest development in the running of the event that has become a monopoly for him and Haegg. They have shattered the mark four times in the last two years, cutting nearly five seconds off the 4:06.4 turned in by Sunej Wooderson, of England, in 1937.

"I cannot imagine anyone running the mile in four minutes or less during this or the next few years," Anderson declared a year ago after his 4:02.6 feat.

Lowering the Record

The following table shows how the mile record has been lowered during the last 70 years:

Year	Runner	Place	Time
1874	W. Stiles	England	4:46
1882	W. George	England	4:21.4
1895	R. Conant	U. S.	4:15.6
1901	P. J. Jones	Cornell U. S.	4:14.4
1913	J. P. Jones	Cornell U. S.	4:14.4
1915	N. Taber	Brown U. S.	4:12.6
1920	Sunej Wooderson	Sweden	4:06.4
1931	Ladoumague	France	4:09.2
1935	L. Lock	New Zealand	4:07.6
1937	Sunej Wooderson	Sweden	4:06.4
1942	Haegg	Sweden	4:02.6
1943	Anderson	Sweden	4:01.6
1944	Anderson	Sweden	4:01.6

HERE AND THERE

Women of Adams County can "mine" tin, in their own kitchens sufficient for 133 flying Fortresses this year.

This figure was announced by J. A. Stewart, vice-president of the American Can company, on the basis of canned foods consumed by civilians in the county last year. On the basis of last year's consumption, civilians will open 3,194,232 cans of food this year, Mr. Stewart said. According to a table recently issued by the government 24,000 tin cans provide tin sufficient for one Flying Fortress.

The government has issued another urgent appeal for waste paper.

This is an all-important salvage material . . . and everyone can help in this effort. Don't throw away or burn paper. Save every scrap. Try to save at least one bundle a week. The armed forces need mountains of waste paper.

Business firms, manufacturers and other industries are urged to dig out their old files . . . letters not directly contractual, old correspondence, old records, old bookkeeping books, old general ledgers, cash books, cancelled checks, invoices, paid bills and other old paper that has no direct usefulness . . . all of this paper can be used to protect ammunition, foods, medicines, life-saving blood plasma, etc.

Salvage every piece of waste paper you can. Every bit helps.

Pennsylvania early 1944-crop potatoes, mostly of the Cobler variety, were placed under ceiling by OPA today. Margins for various channels of distribution are similar to those now in effect, and the only change is in the base price at the source of production. The f.o.b. shipping point price for a 100-pound bag of U. S. No. 1 potatoes is $2.80. This reflects a retail ceiling of 25 cents for a 5-pound unit of sale, effective July 22.

Private Robert Bixler, son of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Blaine E. Bixler, of Littlestown, writes the following from France: "Some time ago I wrote you a letter from England. Now I'm writing a few lines from sunny France. As you know the Allies have been here nearly a month now and other things besides the fighting and military needs are beginning to get organized. We've been getting cigarettes and candy and other luxuries for some time now. Of course we're eating C and K rations which are surprisingly good.

"Now, I'll give you a little information about France itself. The country is pretty well beat up from the fighting but the people nevertheless seem happy and give the Yanks a hearty welcome. A lot of the homes and towns are nearly destroyed by shells and bombs but they survive despite all the hardships. I want you to know I really enjoyed your paper while I received it in the states and will try to make arrangements to have it sent to me here in France."

An assortment of German loot from the battlefields of Normandy was shipped home Tuesday by Lieut. Clarence W. Epley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Epley, Chambersburg street.

Included in the package of war souvenirs are: a German helmet, broken watch, four German books, 2 packages of high-priced cigarettes, three personal letters, a regimental communique, an empty plastic bottle of anti skin poisoning, a piece of silk camouflage cloth, two lens for a gas mask and some stationery.

The name on the gas mask is Otto Grimm and the name on the letters is Walter Rottger. The name of Lt. Rahweder also appears on some of the loot.

The regimental communique tells the German soldiers how to file reports on the enemy from advance observation posts or patrol stations. It states that they must be clear, brief and exhaustive. . . . better ten times too much than one time too little."

The owner of some of the property was formerly a member of a Grenadier regiment. Two car pennants are from the Death Head regiment. One of the books is the German Infantry regulations, carried by all Boche troops. Another is a short story on music by Johanna Kinkel, titled "Jens Merten." The book was a special edition printed in Paris. There was also an adventure story, "Hoboes of the Frontier," by Fritz Sander.

A communique from the Supreme High Command, printed on both sides of a 9 by 12 inch sheet of paper, is the High Command's answer to leaflets dropped over German lines by the Russians.

The communique attempts to describe the source of the Russian leaflets, as former Communist members of the German Reichstag. Each point of the Red message is cited and then answered by the High Command.

The text reveals that the Germans, by their own admission, had been training the nation for many years to combat Red propaganda.

The personal letters are not unusually revealing. One statement, however, confirms the report that German girls are in service, the writer stating that she had received a new hat and a pair of gloves from a girl who soon expected a furlough.

The writer of one of the letters, Erna Koopman, of Wedel, near Hamburg, tells her sweetheart that she had been injured in a sports contest and that it would be some time before she is well. She asks her soldier friend when the ban on furloughs for troops would end and she also asks that he send her sister a jacket. . . . "bring it yourself because sending it is too dangerous." She further wonders "when it will all be over and what it will all come to." She also inquired about a meat box. She also told the soldier that she would send him a box of potatoes.

There was no further message about the war.

In one of the letters it was revealed that it was written by a Dutch girl who said she was anxious for the war to end so that she could go to Germany to meet her soldier-friend's parents and see various things in Germany.

One writer sent Pentecost greetings and also told of observing Mothers' Day at home.

War workers are accused of being the "most wasteful of transportation" and black markets in gasoline are blamed on "a surplus of gasoline in the retail outlets" in a report prepared by the American Automobile Association.

The report was prepared by Elmer Jenkins, National Travel Director of the AAA, following the AAA sponsored "Car Conservation and Synthetic Tire Demonstration Tour" which passed through Gettysburg several weeks ago on the last lap of the 18,000 mile journey.

Highlights of the AAA survey report follow:

"Synthetic Tires and Recapped Tires — Capable of excellent performance — more than 20,000 miles provided they are given proper care. Excellent service secured from recaps containing Grade C camelback on pre-war carcasses. Government is strongly advised not to manufacture any more Grade F camelback for passenger car tires; also to undertake immediately an intensive campaign of education to give the service stations the information and the technique necessary to enable them to handle and repair synthetic tires and tubes.

"Public Attitude Toward Conservation — Motorists are not conservation-minded. Mileage rationing, even at this late hour, is accepted 'not enough out of conviction but too much because it is imposed from above.' Lack of response due, in the main, to number of agencies dealing with passenger car problem, lack of clear-cut policy, conflict in statements, and absence of coordination. We are asking Government to make a clear-cut public pronouncement as to whether or not it is to be the policy to restrict gasoline and tires just to conserve automobiles, irrespective of whether or not more gasoline and tires could be released to the civilian population. Manifestly the future of mileage rationing hinges on the policy determination on this fundamental issue. So, we urge:

"That if, irrespective of the supply of gasoline and tires available at any given time in the period ahead, it is to be the policy of the Office of Defense Transportation to restrict the allocation of these supplies in order to conserve automobiles, automobile parts and manpower until new automobiles are available, this policy should be publicly proclaimed together with an adequate presentation of supporting data.

"Federal Wartime Speed Limit — Wholly disregarded by all classes of vehicles and virtually all classes of users — complete failure as an instrument of conservation. Government should consider whether a more liberal limit, properly enforced, would secure a greater degree of acceptance. However, if there is any change in wartime speed limit, there should be no speed differential as between commercial vehicles and passenger cars.

"War Workers Most Wasteful of Transportation — Generally speaking the war workers, who enjoy the highest priority in securing automobiles, tires and gasoline, are wholly indifferent to conservation in any manner, shape or form. Situation in many areas is so critical that even the police hesitate to patrol roads for fear of being run down, while many stretches of highway leading to and from

Stockholm, Sweden (AP) — Arne Andersson, the flying Swedish school teacher, ran a world record mile of 4:01.6 Tuesday, an indication that the much-discussed, but elusive four-minute mile is just around the corner.

In clipping a full second off the world standard of 4:02.6 that he set a year ago July 1, Andersson beat his more famous countryman, Gunder Haegg, by two meters. Haegg was timed in 4:02, his fastest speed for the distance.

Andersson's 4:01.6 mile was the latest development in the running of the event that has become a monopoly for him and Haegg. They have shattered the mark four times in the last two years, cutting nearly five seconds off the 4:06.4 turned in by Sidney Wooderson, of England, in 1937.

"I cannot imagine anyone running the mile in four minutes or less during this or the next few years," Andersson declared a year ago after his 4:02.6 feat.

Lowering the Record — The following table shows how the mile record has been lowered during the last 70 years:

Year	Runner	Place	Time
1874	W. Slade, England	Eng.	4:24.5
1882	W. George, England	Eng.	4:21.4
1895	T. Connor, U. S.	U.S.	4:15.6
1911	J. P. Jones, Cornell	U.S.	4:15.4
1913	J. P. Jones, Cornell	U.S.	4:14.4
1915	N. Tabor, Brown	U.S.	4:12.6
1923	Nurmi, Finland	Sweden	4:10.4
1931	Ladoumergue, France	France	4:09.2
1937	Lovick, New Zealand	U.S.	4:07.6
1934	Cunningham, Kansas	U.S.	4:06.4
1937	Wooderson, England	U.S.	4:06.4
1942	Haegg, Sweden	Sweden	4:06.2
1942	Haegg, Sweden	Sweden	4:04.6

1944	Andersson, Sweden	Sweden	4:01.6

war plants are avoided by civilians. Several recommendations are advanced by AAA to bring this situation under control.

"Adjustments in Gasoline Rationing — The report frankly states that there is a widespread impression today that more gasoline could be made available to civilians than is now being allocated. It points out that as long as there is a surplus of gasoline in the retail outlets, it is virtually impossible to control black market operations. Any surplus available, or that can be created, should be immediately used to adjust existing inequities and make greater provision for basic civilian needs.

"So, among other things, we recommend that more gasoline be given to 'A' coupon holders everywhere; that 'B' mileage ceilings in the East and Far West should be raised to the level set in the rest of the country; that 'B' coupon holders whose cars do not give fifteen miles to the gallon be made eligible for additional supplemental rations on the same basis as 'C' ration holders are now eligible; and that more gasoline be made available for lightweight retail delivery trucks in the interest of an over-all conservation of gasoline, and more particularly by the 'A' coupon holders.

"Paris, Garage Equipment, and Manpower — Definite, if not critical, shortages shown to exist in all of these. If new passenger cars are not to be produced in the near future, Government must move immediately to increase part schedules, to increase allotments of materials for garage equipment, speed up the manufacture of both parts and equipment, and seek to bring about the recruiting of as many as 100,000 automotive mechanics for the maintenance of passenger car transportation.

"Urban Roads Need Immediate Attention — The bad road conditions existing in urban areas, where most of today's mileage is run, forcefully called to the attention of Government agencies. The condition is taking a terrific toll of motor vehicle equipment. War Production Board must and should speed aid to cities and towns by granting a high priority to road maintenance equipment and, at the same time, idle equipment owned by the armed services should be made available to cities and towns for the immediate restoration of damaged pavements."

DELIVERS TALK ON NUTRITION AT B.C. CLASS

Mrs. Anna dePlanter Bowes, chief of the nutrition department of the State Department of Health, Harrisburg, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Red Cross nutrition class which was held Wednesday afternoon at the Red Cross room.

In her talk Mrs. Bowes revealed that all service quartermaster corps are patterned after nutrition course programs. In answering the question, "Are We Well Fed?" Mrs. Bowes pointed out that among the rejections for service a greater part were because of bad teeth. She reported that not one in 500 persons

Mrs. Bowes deplored the national habit of small breakfasts causing inefficient work habits later in the day. She said three satisfying meals a day with no in-between eating do not add pounds if the meals are balanced. Lack of minerals and vitamins in diet are revealed by eye

The nutrition class meets every Wednesday afternoon in the Red Cross room for two hours beginning at 2:30 o'clock. At present there are 12 members. Next week will be the final opportunity for registration for

"A tiny girl was taking a long journey, and in the course of the day her train had to cross a number of rivers. The water seen in the distance always awakened doubts and fears in the child. She could not understand how it could safely be crossed. As the train drew near each river, a bridge appeared and furnished the way over. Several times the same thing happened, and finally the child leaned back with a long breath of relief and confidence. Somebody has put bridges for us all the way she said. That is how we find it in life. God has built bridges for us all the way.

Dr. Charles Wesley Flint, formerly bishop of the Syracuse area and now bishop of the Washington, D. C., area of the Methodist church.

The other local persons attending were: Dr. William F. Quillian, Jr., Mrs. Dunning Ide, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Milton R. Remmel. Governor Martin and dignitaries of other churches in the Harrisburg area were among the speakers.

LOCAL SOLDIER IMPRESSED BY BISHOP'S TALK

Corporal John B. "Jack" Keith, son of Mrs. John D. Keith, Carlisle street, was among the large group of Americans who attended a special service recently in the National Evangelical Lutheran church in Reykjavik, Iceland.

His Grace, the Most Rev. Sigur-geir Sigurdsson, D.D., Bishop of Iceland, delivered the sermon. So impressed was he by the sermon that Corporal Keith asked the Bishop for a copy. He then sent it home to his mother for safe keeping until he returns.

Later, when Bishop Sigurdsson received an honorary D.D. degree from Wagner college, at a special service in New York, Mrs. Keith and her daughter, Helen, were in the congregation. After the service Mrs. Keith personally thanked the Bishop for the sermon and the impression it made on her son.

The Times has been given permission to reprint the sermon as follows:

"And now behold, we are in thine hand" (Josh. 9:25). These are the words of Joshua, the great leader of his nation. There is no doubt that the best and most comforting feeling which a man can have, is to feel certain that God is with him.

"Man is frail and has but little strength in himself. We very often resemble a blade of grass before the wind. When the difficult experiences of life overwhelm us, we often feel our weakness. The man who has no feeling and no consciousness that God is with him is always afraid of the future. He asks the question: What does today or tomorrow hold for me? But if he on the contrary has that safe assurance that God is with him, he never trembles or fears for what may happen. He knows that all is right.

Life Built on Rock

"When the storms of life rage, he rests securely because the house of his life is built on the rock. As we all know, the tempest of war is blowing in the world. The war shatters and breaks down
